MT PLEASANT NEWS-JOURNAL, MT PLEASANT, IOWA

Preface

Now that this edition of the new Iowa Wesleyan Alumni Record is ready for the press, we begin to fully understand how incomplete and inaccurate the individual data in many instances is. We are frank to confess that when we first started on the work, we had visions of making the book accurate in every detail. But we have now learned that we set for ourselves an impossible task. Some of the alumni of the early days, we fear, are lost to us forever. We have been fortunate in locating a few of the people who were marked as missing in the old record of twelve years ago, but we are afraid there will be more new names bearing that legend than were in the old book. In the preface of the first edition of this history and record, the editor, Mr. Carl S. Williams, '84, makes reference to the incomplete data concerning F. H. Burris, of the class of 1863. Just today, as we were rummaging around in a box of old papers that had been brought down from the attic to be thrown into the furnace, we found a slip of paper dated in 1906 which gives the complete history of Fernandez Holiday Burris. In another hour this record would have been lost forever.

The task of the original editors of this book was a little less than Herculean. After many weary days and nights spent in an effort to bring this book up to date, assisted immeasurably as we were by the original volume, which "blazed the trail", we come to an adequate realization of what the first task must have been. In going over the old documents and minutes, relative to the life of the school, we have found the original history as written by Ex-President John W. Hancher, most complete and accurate.

We have attempted on two previous occasions to get the book ready for publication, but each time the work was halted by the exigencies of the endowment campaign. We are working on it now in the midst of several other pressing duties. Perhaps this will account for some of the errors and inaccuracies. We wish to thank, at this time, all those who have assisted us so materially in this work. No one, however, has made a greater contribution of time to this work than W. H. Evans, '98, and Ben Hur Wilson, '09. Without their aid, the book could not have been printed at this time, if at all.

If your own record is in error or incomplete, or that of any of your friends, or those whose memory you honor, write the facts and send them to the Librarian of the College. Don't wait, but do it now. It will be preserved and filed for future use.

It is the intention to re-print this book once every ten years. In the meantime, the college will endeavor to keep all data up-to-date. Young ladies have a most discouraging way of changing their names and if they knew how difficult a little event like that makes it to discover their whereabouts, we feel certain they would notify the college immediately. The younger graduates are a roving lot. They are teaching, or preaching, or working here and there, and it is hard to lay your finger on them without their co-operation.

We trust that this book will serve to unite you more strongly to your Alma Mater. With the future of Iowa Wesleyan assured, all the great family of the Alumni will feel their interest and devotion intensified.

HERBERT N. JEFFREY,
Editor of Alumni Record.

Foreword

The following is not a complete history. It does not purport to be. We confess to that purpose in the beginning, but the incompleteness of data, the want of full information, and the impossibility of procuring these in the time allotted, have swerved us from our purpose, and we here set down some things of accuracy and some things of uncertainty. These will doubtless meet the eyes of persons who know their uncertainties, and, in some instances, their inaccuracies. If such persons will kindly advise us, we shall feel called, after hearing from our alumni, patrons, and friends, to prepare an accurate history that shall be, in some measure at least, a complete one.

We append to this sketch record of trustees, officers, executive committees, presidents, faculties, etc., from the beginning. We believe them to be correct. In many instances we have been obliged to depend upon the memory of our older alumni to know whether they had degrees, and if so, what their degrees were, so that the scholastic setting may, in some instances, be erratic. For information touching any error or omission we shall be exceedingly grateful, and will preserve the same carefully, in the interests of future accuracy and correctness.

Historical Sketch

Perspective

Virginia was the "Mother of Presidents." Ohio supplanted her, and held the distinguished honor, to her great credit and the profit of the nation. Many people believe that Iowa is to be the grand-daughter of Virginia in the presidential line. Be that as it may, Iowa is building, as she has been building from the beginning of territorial history, as though she might be called upon to furnish the brain and brawn, the courage and heroism, the foresight and leadership of the American republic. The counsels of her political leaders are sought at the nation's firesides. The influence of her religious leaders are felt everywhere, and everywhere command respect. Iowa's splendid system of public education is in evidence in this as in all other walks of life. The value of her many colleges asserts itself in the service her sons and daughters are called upon to render to the state, the nation, and the world. The sequel is: Iowa began right. She found her inspiration in the hunger of the Pilgrim Fathers for liberty and learning, and intensified it by the reflex action from a colonial sentiment, which thanked God for freedom from the influence of school-houses and printing presses, and prayed Him to delay their coming at least one hundred years.

Methodism was early in Iowa. That's a way Methodism has. Our Methodist forbears began upon arrival to lay plans for liberal education. In 1841, when Mt. Pleasant was but a hamlet of a few humble cottages, such men as I. I. Stewart, Peter Smith, E. Killpatrick, J. C. Hall, P. C. Tiffany, Samuel Nelson, Nelson Lathrop, John P. Grantham, and a score of others, "whose names are as ointment poured forth," in the memory of those days, were suggesting, counselling, planning, hoping, daring, and in 1842 meeting with the people en masse to discuss the relation of the hopes and future prosperity of the young territory to higher education. Of this labor of brain and heart, Iowa Wesleyan was brought forth, first of all the educational institutions of her grade in Iowa, and first of all such institutions to the country on the west of the Mississippi. The beginnings were small. To those who are familiar only with the movements of modern colleges and universities, they seem insignificant, but they meant much to those noble and courageous men who planned so wisely, and they mean infinitely more to Iowa's posterity because they meant so much to the men of whose love and sacrifice Iowa Wesleyan was begotten.

Iowa has today seventeen colleges which are entitled to membership in the College Section of the State Educational Association, and which under that membership are called "Standard." Iowa Wesleyan is one of these, and enjoys a worthy place among her sisters. Her alumni are admitted to the professional schools of our great universities upon the records made at Wesleyan. Of the seventeen standard colleges, five are Methodist, and Iowa Wesleyan sustains maternal relation to all the five. "The average annual attendance in these five schools for the past four years has been 561. The average annual attendance in all the other standard colleges, including the State University, with its professional schools, and the Agricultural College, both backed by the generous treasury of goodly Iowa, has been but little more. If the average be confined to the other denominational colleges only, it is far less."

What magnificent promise this vigorous young state gives to her future, and the future of the nation, through these multiplied thousands of earnest young people, building into their lives the best thought, the best discovery, the best sentiment, the best hope, and the best vision of the present and the past.

Already Iowa Wesleyan's sons and daughters have belted the world. They occupy positions of more or less important leadership in every walk of life. In the ministry, in pedagogics, in journalism, in law, in Christian missions, in commerce, in manufactures, in agriculture, in mechanics, in all the ramifications of modern pastoral, professional, industrial and commercial life, Wesleyan's alumni are to be found in honored places.

It has been seventy-five years since Heustis came out to this then far western country to lay the foundations for a school of higher learning. The beginnings were small, the gifts were meager. But those early pioneers gave of their substance, such as it was, gladly. From Heustis to Schell, there are seventy-five years of glorious history. To give a list of all the self-sacrificing men and women who have stood by the institution in all periods of stress and storm, would be impossible, within the bounds of this book. We could never give full credit. We wish that one and all of you might have enjoyed the rare privilege of looking through the old records and minutes with us. The bare facts tell a more glowing tale of devotion than any work of fiction. Barely had the school been organized, when a group of lads marched away to the Mexican war. What a space of time that covers. It brings to our mind, memories of Pala Alta, Reseca De La Palma and the heights of Chapultepec. Even now as we write these words, the boys are drilling again under the campus elms, preparing themselves for the great struggle with Germany. What the future may hold for them, only God, in His wisdom, knows, but if it is necessary for the "sons of Wesleyan" to get into the front ranks and give up their lives, whether in America, or in far off Flanders, we know they will respond with that same high purpose that animated our boys of '46, '61 and '98.

As we read over these old records, we discover many things that, in this later day, of our greater prosperity, doubtless seem a bit amusing. In one place we find where the Executive Committee gave permission to the President to cut enough hay off the campus to pay the arrears in his salary.

It is to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the founding of Iowa Wesleyan, of which there is no other event of greater historical significance in the whole history of our state, that we have taken up the work of publishing this record. Inaccurate and incomplete as it may be, if it but helps you to live over some of the sweet memories of your long-forgotten college days, we will be satisfied.

Organization

Just when this institution of learning was organized this chronicle does not purport to tell, nor does this chronicler assume to know. The original Articles of Association, whereby sundry persons associated themselves together and effected an organization for Christian education, are extant, but, alas. they are without date. The earliest document of date is March 8, 1843. It presumes, allowing for the slow postal service, a first organization in 1842. Some think the preliminary step took place in 1841. The next document is of record in the Henry County archives, and bears date March 11, 1843. We give the document, together with the names of the associators, herewith verbatim:

‘Be it known that we, the undersigned, agree and hereby enter into articles of association for the purpose of erecting a Collegiate Institute at Mt. Pleasant, Henry County, Iowa Territory.

“That we hereby subscribe to the following articles to govern said association:

“Article First.

‘The association shall be known and denominated ‘The Mount Pleasant Collegiate Institute.’

“Article Second.

“Any person may become a member of said association by subscribing for the use of said association the sum of five dollars, or more, which sum may be subscribed in money, labour, property, or building materials.

“Article Third.

“All sums of money, property, or labour subscribed, shall be faithfully applied to the erection and completion of a suitable building designed and to be dedicated for a ‘Collegiate Institute.’

“Article Fourth.

‘That J. C. Hall, P. C. Tiffany, Samuel Nelson, Nelson Lathrop, and Peter Smith are hereby appointed and constituted Trustees of this association, and all sums subscribed, all donations of whatever description or kind intended or designed for the purpose of erecting said building, are hereby transferred and vested in said Trustees, to have and to hold the same in trust for the purpose of erecting said Institute, and that said Trustees are hereby empowered and fully authorized to enter into contract with such persons as they may think proper, and do all acts necessary for the erecting said building, and that said Trustees have full power for the purposes aforesaid to transfer any and all property subscribed to aid in erecting said building, assign any chose in action, and transfer any subscription that may be subscribed for the benefit or use of this association, and do all and every act that may be necessary for the purposes of carrying out the intent and object of this association. Provided, that nothing herein shall be so construed as to empower said Trustees to create any liabilities that are not by the contract to be liquidated by the subscription or property donated by or for the use of the association.

"Article Fifth.

"That said Trustee shall hold their power and appointment until the first of January, 1844, and until their appointments are revoked by the appointment of successors.

"Article Sixth.

"This institution shall be placed under the patronage and control of the Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the bounds of which it is located, said Conference, or the President thereof, having the power to appoint the professors, and a board of visitors.

"Article Seventh.

"Any vacancy in the Board of Trustees may be filled by the remaining Trustees.

The trustees elected by the foregoing action entered into a contract on the 8th day of March, 1843, whereby the first president and field agent began service, looking to the acquirement of property, the erection of suitable buildings, and other things necessary to carrying out the plans of the trustees. That first president was Rev. Artistides J. Heustis, A.B., A. M. He was an alumnus of Wilbraham Academy. He came to Mt. Pleasant after considerable correspondence and negotiation with the representatives and trustees of the association, for the specific purpose of establishing an institution for higher education, under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Some persons think that these negotiations had gone on since 1841; others that they were begun in 1842. Certain it is, with the slow transit of mails in those times, and the apparent necessity of passing a number of letters to and fro before Mr. Huestis would have made the far journey to Iowa Territory, that, since the contract was negotiated and signed by him and the trustees as early as the 8th day of March, 1843, the organization must have had form and shape some time in 1842, if not in 1841.

It remains of necessity uncertain, but we are confident that we shall yet find the information that will fix the year, if not the month and the day, when the original organization first took form and shape.

The young school was named Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institute, and was chartered by an act of the legislature of the Territory of Iowa, which act was approved by the territorial governor, Lucas, March 15, 1844. While the articles of association provided for its patronage and supervision under the Methodist Episcopal Church, it does not appear that the Rock River Conference, of which southeastern Iowa was then a part, ever mothered Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institute. The Iowa Conference was organized at Iowa City on the 14th day of August, 1844, and the trustees of the Institute sought to have the new Conference accept, govern, control, and direct their material and educational interests. At the session of the Conference in August, 1849, I. I. Stewart, Alcinous Young, Joseph McDowell, Erastus Lathrop, and D. N. Smith were appointed a committee to negotiate with the trustees to the end named. On the 11th day of September, 1849, this committee, for and on behalf of the Conference, accepted the Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institute, under the following form of agreement: "That the Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institute shall be recognized as our Conference University, and that we, as a Conference will give the above-named Institute our perpetual patronage, etc."

This action was confirmed and ratified at the next regular session of the Iowa Conference, held at Fairfield, August 7, 1850. It has since been under the patronage of the Iowa Conference. On the third day of October, 1854, action was taken by the trustees of the Iowa Conference University which action seems to have been with the understanding and approval of the Iowa Conference, whereby it was authorized that the name be changed from Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institute to Iowa Wesleyan University. Under this new name a new charter was sought from the legislature of the state of Iowa by the supporters, patrons, and friends of the proposed university.

This new charter changes the name, as sought in the petition, and names Palmer C. Tiffany, John P. Grantham, Nelson Lathrop, Jonathan P. Hall, Ephriam Kilpatrick, and their associates, as trustees. The charter was approved by the Governor on the 25th day of January. 1855.

A revised charter of the institution was sought through E. L. Briggs, Anthony Robinson, Henry Ambler, and Thomas E. Corkhill, under date of September 30, 1865, and the same was filed in the office of the Secretary of State on the 4th day of October, 1869. Under this revised charter, Charles Elliott, J. R. Needham, J. H. Power, Wellington Bird, E. H.

Waring, David Worthington, Henry Ambler, W. F. Cowles, George Sweney, Charles Snyder, E. L. Briggs, J. R. Copelin, Thomas Audas, William Wilson, Jr., Anthony Robinson, J. B. Vernon, M. H. Hare, James Harlan, Charles Lawrence and Thomas E. Corkhill, were named as trustees. The last amendment to the charter of the Iowa Wesleyan University was adopted by the Board of Trustees June 15, 1874, and filed for record in the office of the Secretary of State September 22, 1874.

In this revised charter, G. N. Power, I. P. Teter, John Wheeler, Wellington Bird, J. I. Gilbert, I. A. Bradrick, W. F. Cowles, Henry Ambler, George Sweney, Charles Snyder, A. Robinson, E. L. Briggs, J. W. McDonald, J. T. Hackworth, John Conaway, James Harlan, E. H. Waring, T. E. Corkhill, C. L. Collins, and E. L. Penn were appointed trustees.

It thus appears that the Educational Institution, now extant under the name of Iowa Wesleyan College has been in continuous existence, under a single organization, but with its original name of Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institution, changed successively to Iowa Conference University in 1850; Iowa Wesleyan University in 1854 and Iowa Wesleyan College in 1911. For a number of years, the trustees had realized that this school was no longer doing work of a strictly university character, and had no intention of so doing in the future. So, at the annual June meeting of 1911, the name of the school was formally changed to Iowa Wesleyan College. This was ratified by the Iowa Conference at Fairfield in September of that year. It did not, however, become the legal name until July 1, 1912.

The Trustees are elected by the Iowa Annual Conference, the Board and the Alumni. They are chosen for a term of four years. The Board consists of twenty-eight members, the President of the college and the presiding bishop of the Iowa Conference who are members ex-officio. Eight members are elected each, by the Alumni and the Board, while the Iowa Conference chooses twelve. The term of office of seven members of the Board expires annually.

The Iowa Conference also elects a Board of visitors of three members, whose term of office continues three years. They co-operate with the Board of Trustees, as Advisory Council, and have the right to vote on all elections of the faculty. These visitors make annual reports to the Iowa Conference, as to the progress, condition, needs and achievements of the college.

Material Growth

Like all institutions of its kind, Iowa Wesleyan began without property. At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institute, held at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, March 11, 1843, "for the purpose of receiving propositions and pledges of donations of land for a site for the building of the Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institute," the following donations of land were pledged: First, John Jones, "four acres from the south end of his land in such form as to connect the national road and Main street;" second, J. C. Hall, "six acres from the north end of his land connecting also the national road and Main street; and in this gift he liquidates his subscription;" third, Samuel Brazelton, "five acres on the east side of Main street and directly east of the ten acres donated by Messrs. Jones and Hall, and of the same width on Main street;" fourth, Peter Smith, "(in lieu of his subscription) five acres west of the national road and directly west of the ten acres donated by Messrs. Jones and Hall, and of the same width on the national road. And in all these proposals it is contemplated that a street forty feet in width on the north and south lines be included in the donations."

"The above donations are given with the express understanding that the land is to be occupied and held for a building site for the institution, and that the grant shall be ineffective and void, provided same should not be for the purpose aforesaid, and the trustees within three years from this date erect a suitable building on some part of said donation, which shall be used and forever appropriated as an institution of learning."

From the above description it is evident that John Jones and J. C. Hall were the donors of the central square of land known as the main campus; that Samuel Brazelton was the donor of the east campus, now occupied by the Conservatory of Music; and that Peter Smith was the donor of the west campus now occupied by Elizabeth Hershey Hall, and as an athletic field. These gifts were pledged by the gentlemen named upon condition that a suitable building for educational purposes be erected, and when the same had been done, they executed warranty deeds to the land in good faith as pledged, and the said lands have ever since been the property of this institution.

With this contract executed, three days after the contract whereunder he entered upon the duties of president of the Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institute, President Huestis as chief executive began the work for which he had crossed the Mississippi. He had come from the far east to found a Methodist institution of learning. His task was begun, and already his hopes were seeing fruition. The association of which he was president was in the possession of twenty acres of raw prairie land, pledged in good faith.

Harvard had a few books given to found a university; Huestis had twenty acres of ground pledged to found a Methodist institution of learning of high grade, which within a few short years thereafter was also juggling with the word University. Learned, courageous, purposeful, faithful, this founder of Iowa Wesleyan went heroically to his task. He served a half dozen years. Faithfully he served and well. Like college presidents closing the last half of the century of which he was closing the first half, he was of necessity a man of affairs. He gave his entire time to business administration and to work in the field, securing funds and creating property. He traveled extensively in the new territory and in the then far east, gathering from his friends such gifts, small or very small (there seem to have been no large ones) as they were willing to contribute. He is in repute a scholar, thinker and pulpit orator of more than average ability.

In the early months of his administration Iowa's pioneer college building was begun. It was enclosed and occupied in 1844, and is still in commission, having done duty first as a school building and president's residence; later as a recitation building, and for many years as a Conservatory of Music, but in more recent years has been occupied by our Commercial School. It has been in service for seventy-three years, and though plain and unpretentious, it is still a substantial, reliable structure. It was built of brick two stories high with ground dimensions of 28x54 feet, and then contained 9 rooms. Seven decades ago it was adequate to the needs of the institution as a school building and president's residence. Mrs. I. I. Stewart, whose husband was presiding elder of a large district in the late 40's and early 50's, and had headquarters at Mt. Pleasant, states that for a time the school was conducted in the building on the first floor, and both the president and presiding elder had residences on the second floor.

The record books of Iowa Wesleyan from the beginning until now are extant and in reasonably good condition. However, the difficulty of determining such questions as the dates of the first meeting and the business transacted by the first board of trustees at their earlier sittings will be apparent to every reader when we state that the first sixteen pages of the first record book are gone. The book is naturally breaking and losing its firmness, being now more than seventy years old, and these leaves have been lost. The records from 1845 to the present are fairly accurate and more or less complete. Whatever records were made have been preserved and are extant today.

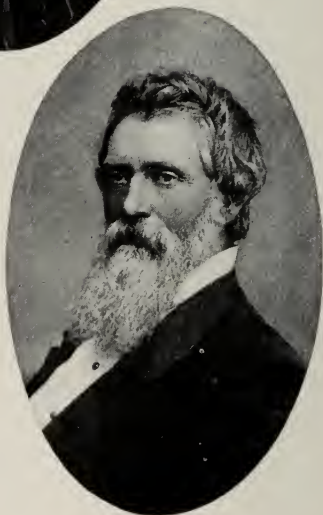

In 1845 Professor Johnson Pierson, A. B., A. M., alumnus of McKendrie College, was elected to the faculty of the Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institute, and remained in its service until 1849. He was assisted in the school work by his wife a part if not all of the time. They who were under his tutorship say that Professor Pierson was an excellent teacher, and his influence still lives in the lives of his students.

President 1852-1853
(No portrait extant.)

In 1849 President Huestis and Professor Pierson severed their connection with the Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institute, and Rev. Joseph McDowell became president on the 11th day of April of that year. Professor Lewis Dwight, A. B., A. M., took the place of Professor Pierson in the faculty, and he and President McDowell remained from the spring of 1849 until the fall of 1850. President McDowell was not a college trained man, but he was a man of courage, faith and evangelistic spirit. It is written of him that during a pastorate at Troy Circuit, Iowa, his ministry was rewarded with the conversion of 1,300 people in a single year. Like President Huestis he devoted his time to the material interests of the school, acting as both president and field agent. His was an evangelistic administration. He lived, loyal and faithful to the ministry of the church, until 1885, when he answered the final summons, triumphant in Christian faith and battle-scarred in Christian service.

Joseph McDowell having severed his connection, and Lewis Dwight having severed his connection in the fall of 1850, Rev. Alexander Nelson, A. B., A. M., D. D., became president. President Nelson was college trained and the trustees hoped in him to have a permanent president who would build and grow with the institution. He seems to have continued but a single year, when he returned to Ohio, where he served his church and his generation long and well, being respectively president of Baldwin University, and a pastor of important stations in the M. E. church. He passed on to the other side but a few years since, full of years, rich in experience, and ripe for the triumphs of Heaven. Mrs. Nelson was associated with him as a teacher during his administration.

During this time and for some months prior to President Nelson's coming, Rev. R. H. Harrison had been field agent of the institution, and continued so after President Nelson's resignation had been accepted. At this time serious financial embarrassments arose, creating no little discussion and, if we now judge aright from the records, some turmoil. Aggressive work in the field seems to have been suspended pending the adjustment of the troubles and the settlement of financial conditions and restoring of confidence.

In the next two years, Rev. Elias Williamson Gray, A. B., A. M., and Rev. James Marshall McDonald, A. B., A. M., were presidents. The records are not sufficiently clear to enable us to determine just what length of time each served.

President Gray seems to have been the successor to President Nelson, and after a half year of service as president he seems to have been succeeded by President McDonald, while President Gray became teacher, and in 1854 Professor of Ancient Languages and Literature, which chair he occupied until 1860. President Gray was an A. B. alumnus of Augusta College, from which he afterward took the degree of A. M. We judge from his army record that he may have been an M. D., although we know of no record of it. He responded to his country's call in the War of the Rebellion in 1862 and was mustered out at Vicksburg, April 15, 1866. During the last two years of service he held the position of assistant surgeon in the 58th Mississippi Colored Regiment. He was born at Middletown, Ohio, February 20, 1821, and lived until January 31, 1896. In his later years he made permanent some of the results of his careful, thoughtful life, in a book entitled "The New Religion."

President McDonald was an alumnus of Indiana Asbury University. He was a brother of Rev. Dr. J. W. McDonald, long of this Conference and of Rev. A. C. McDonald, one time of this conference. The latter was the father of Professor Lillian McDonald, formerly a member of the faculty, and for many years a devoted servant of the church under the auspices of the Freedman's Aid Society in the South.

President McDonald served but six months, when he resigned in the spring of 1853 to take up the regular work of the pastorate. But it was not to be for long. Born in Ohio on Christmas day, 1823, graduated from Indiana Asbury University in 1851, president of Iowa Wesleyan in 1852, entering the pastorate well equipped and with high hopes in the spring of 1853, he looked out upon the future with resolute purpose. But disease was already upon him, and in a few months death claimed him. He passed to his eternal reward Sept. 12, 1853.

His successor was James Harlan, A. M., LL. D. To name him is to tell all; and yet to occupy many times the entire space allotted to this sketch in his behalf were not to tell all. Sixteen years ago this writer was asked by the authorities of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition to name the two most prominent men in Iowa public life in the early days of the state's history. He in turn wrote twenty-five men, prominent in Iowa affairs, both state and church, asking the same question. Nearly all of them answered, and every answer named James Harlan as one. All but three placed him first. He was a valued counselor in the affairs of the nation. In 1855 he was elected a member of the United States senate, in which position he rendered continuous service to his country until 1865, when he resigned to accept the portfolio of the Interior in President Lincoln's cabinet. He continued after the assassination of President Lincoln a short time in the cabinet of President Johnson. In 1867 he was again elected to the senate and served a full term. President Harlan seems to have entered upon his duties at Wesleyan out of love, and to have continued them always in sacrifice. No duties of state or nation were ever so exacting that he could not give some time to Wesleyan's interests.

During his administration the plain old brick building in the center of the main campus was constructed. It is 45x100 feet, three stories high, and is held in memory by every degree graduate of Iowa Wesleyan from the beginning until now. The records show that the structure cost $20,000. It could not be built today for twice that money. Alexander Lee, a layman whose name has been closely identified with history-making in southeastern Iowa for more than half a century, was the contractor. Mr. Lee has been dead for some years, but his sons and daughters, active, busy and worthy in life, as was he, still keep his memory green.

During the process of construction of this main hall in 1854, and when the walls were up, a heavy storm wrecked the building. A part of one story was blown off, and much financial damage resulted. Mr. Lee made no complaint but addressed himself with diligence to repairing the damage, and completed the structure under his contract without asking reimbursement for the loss. A recent test of these walls shows them to be durable, reliable and promising for 100 years to come.

President Harlan, as has long been the custom of college presidents, was professor of Mental and Moral Science. When in the faculty, but not president, his chair was International Law. Succeeding President McDonald, he served from some time in 1853—probably the spring or summer—until June 22, 1855, when he was succeeded by Rev. Lucien W. Berry, D.D., whose election occurred May 3, 1855, and who entered upon his duties immediately after the close of President Harlan's first term at the end of June of that same year.

Dr. Berry was a native of Vermont, born at Alburg in 1815, and educated at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, but did not complete his course. Prior to coming to Iowa Wesleyan he had been successor to Matthew Simpson as president of Indiana Asbury University at Greencastle, and his coming was hailed with high anticipations by those who loved and sacrificed for the young university. He began to lay the foundations for large and growing work.

Associated with the beginnings of President Harlan, were George C. Whitlock, A.B., A. M., Professor of Natural Philosophy and Chemistry, who remained from 1854 to 1864; Mrs. M. J. Kelly, A. M., who remained from 1855 to 1861; James Haynes, Miss Debby Clark, Miss Mary Weir, Lewis Bechtold, Miss C. Gibson, Miss P. J. Jenkins, Berchem Lucrode, M.S., Rev. Wesley J. Spaulding, A. M., Ph. D., Rev. Thomas Audas, A.M., Walter S. Forrtesque, M.S., Miss Maria C. Gray, Wray Beatty, M.S., Ph.D., Rev. Chas. Elliott, D.D., LL.D., Chas. G. Downey, A.M., D. N. Heffner, B.S., Miss Maria Meatty, and others.

From the goodly number taken into the faculty in these brief years, all of whom seem to have continued in service until 1855 or later, it is evident that the work of college-building was begun in earnest. Sincere plans to develop the university were in the minds of these early educators and of the then trustees of the institution. Some work of university class was done later, but Iowa Wesleyan is a college, and it has not been in the thought of its promoters in the later years to undertake anything higher than collegiate work. Conditions have changed; colleges have multiplied; universities with large endowments or state treasuries behind them have grown up, and the small college which confines itself to its legitimate sphere instead of undertaking university work gives evidence of justifiable wisdom.

Iowa Wesleyan put out her first degree graduate in 1856 in the person of Winfield Scott Mayne, B. S. Living still, rich in experiences and fellowships, he is practicing law at Council Bluffs, Iowa. Around him as a nucleus have gathered more than 1,000 other alumni in this three-quarters of a century of history-making. Most of them are living and nearly all are living well. Some twenty per cent of them have answered the call of destiny and now are numbered among the immortals.

We are admonished that our space forbids further naming all individual members of the faculty, noting their chairs, and mentioning their work. We have therefore made a schedule of the "Faculty from the beginning," which will be found appended to this sketch.

Dr. Berry's administration was all too brief. His was a great soul. His was an able ministry. He was under far-reaching favorable mention for the episcopacy because of his pulpit power, his literary acumen, and his administrative skill. After a little more than two years' service at Iowa Wesleyan he retired from the presidency. In 1842, the probable year when Iowa Wesleyan was first planned, Dr. Berry became pastor of Wesley Chapel, Indianapolis, at the early age of 27 years. Henry Ward Beecher was pastor of Second Presbyterian church in the same city. Beecher's eloquence had already given him a rapidly spreading fame. Ere young Berry had been long at Wesley Chapel, a large and growing audience sat under his ministry, and it is written that "Honors were evenly divided" between the two young divines. Mr. Beecher's name is a household word throughout Anglo-Saxonism, and Mr. Berry's might have been had he not been cut down in 1858 at the age of 42 when he had not yet reached his prime. He died in Cincinnati and his dust rests at Indianapolis.

At the meeting of the board of trustees, held November 26, 1857, Rev. James L. Leavitt was elected president following the resignation of Dr. Berry, but declined to accept the position, and Rev. Charles Elliott, D.D., LL.D., was elected president at the same meeting.

Dr. Elliott's service as president of Iowa Wesleyan covered two terms. The first was November 26, 1857 to June 22, 1861 and the second June 23, 1863, to September 26, 1866. In the interim between these two presidencies, during the trying days of the War of the Rebellion, he was editor of the Central Christian Advocate, St. Louis, to which position the General Conference of 1860, of which he was a member, had elected him. He was bold, daring, aggressive, and sometimes defiant in the Union cause. He earned for himself the name of War Editor. Charles Elliott was great as a thinker and a writer. His executive ability was good, and on pulpit and platform his was an utterance sturdy, convincing, commanding, and long to be remembered.

Dr. Elliott did many good things, and some things notable. Among others was a most unusual event at the time and one important in history. Up to 1859 no woman had ever graduated with a Baccalaureate degree from a co-educational institution. This first distinction belongs to Lucy W. Killpatrick whose father was one of the early trustees of Iowa Wesleyan and a supporter and promoter from its early history to the time of his death. Miss Killpatrick had been a student at Iowa Wesleyan for four years, and in 1859 she graduated with the degree of A.B. She received the usual diploma, and Dr. Elliott also gave her a Special Diploma as a fitting emphasis of her unusual achievement. Soon after graduating she married George W. Byrkit, A.M., class of 1857, and shared with him the experiences of an itinerant Methodist preacher in the Iowa Conference.

The Civil War made large inroads upon the student body of Iowa Wesleyan. When the call to the defense of the country and the flag came, and the student body was assured that 100 days would put down the "Impudent rebellion," the patriotic flame burned high, and many of Wesleyan's boys enlisted under the flag for 100 days, whereunder a goodly number re-enlisted and served for a number of years. Those were "the days that tried men's souls." The problem of Christian education under denominational direction, always perplexing, was then especially so.

Dr. Elliott found his duties as editor of the Central Christian Advocate, upon which service he entered in 1860, so exacting that in June 1861 he asked to be relieved from the presidency of Wesleyan.

He was succeeded by George B. Jocelyn, A. M., D. D., whose term of service was June 22, 1861, to September 10, 1862. President Jocelyn was an alumnus of Indiana Asbury. He was in repute as an orator and preacher. His brief administration of Wesleyan was characterized with the turmoil incident to the unrest of war. He went from Wesleyan to Albion College, where he had a much longer professional career, filled with abounding and honorable service.

On June 23, 1863, Charles Elliott was again elected president. He continued in the editorial chair of the Central Christian Advocate until 1864, giving to Iowa Wesleyan such time as he could command from the exacting duties of that onerous position, when he returned to Mt. Pleasant and continued with Wesleyan until September 26, 1866. He was large-hearted and tender in his administration. Those who were under him say that he had but to stand on the platform at Chapel and, after some prank or mischief or wrong had been committed, say: "Boys, you have hurt my feelings," to guarantee that the offense would not be repeated.

But the years were speeding; Dr. Elliott was growing old. The resolutions of appreciation spread upon the pages of our record at a meeting of the trustees of date September 28, 1866, are full of tenderness and love. They recite his successful professional career of more than half a century; rank him among the foremost editors and authors of the church and the best thinkers and writers of the age; they make him the honored instrument in establishing the first female college in Christendom, and resolve: "That it is with deepest sorrow that we bow to this dispensation of Providence which compells us to accept the resignation of our venerable and beloved friend and fellow-laborer; that the most cordial gratitude of the church is due to Dr. Elliott for the true and faithful manner in which he has fostered every trust committed to his keeping and for the able manner in which he has performed the duties of those stations to which he has been called; that in retiring from the active duties of life we extend to him our warmest sympathies and assure him of a place in our affections and our prayers."

Dr. Elliott lived until 1869, when at the age of 77, his spirit came to the fruition of freedom, and his body was laid to rest in beautiful Forest Home Cemetery at Mt. Pleasant, whither not infrequent pilgrimages are made that men may pause a moment at the tomb of Charles Elliott, whose "name is as ointment poured forth."

In the interim between the return of President Jocelyn and the active service of Dr. Elliott's second term, Wesley J. Spaulding, A. M., Ph. D., was vice-president and the acting executive head of the institution. Dr. Spaulding was the son-in-law of Dr. Berry. He graduated at Indiana Asbury University in 1854. He took the chair of Greek Language and Literature in Iowa Wesleyan in September, 1855, and was in continuous service until 1864, with executive official relation during the last two years of this period as stated above.

Dr. Elliott's resignation was accepted September 26, 1866, and on the same day, Rev. Charles Avery Holmes, A. M., D. D., was elected president. The work of re-organization and re-construction after the sad havoc of war's influence upon the school, so well begun by Dr. Elliott, was ably carried forward by President Holmes. This administration was not characterized by unusual events. Rather was it his mission to advance every interest upon the re-organization already affected by Dr. Elliott. To this task he addressed himself with fidelity and loyalty, and witnessed as a reward of his industry growing numbers of pupils, and graduates from year to year. It was to the credit of Iowa Wesleyan that during the war days classes of reasonable numbers had been graduated annually, as has been true every year from 1856 to the present year, when Wesleyan sends out her 62nd successive class.

The valuable and efficient services of Dr. Holmes continued to the first of January, 1869, when he severed his relation with the University and returned to Ohio, that he might devote himself to the pastorate. He was a devoted, earnest, Godly man, an able scholar and preacher, and preferred the quiet and good-fellowship of a pastorate to the anxieties, perplexities and vexations of a college presidency.

In 1869 the Hon. James Harlan took the presidency of Iowa Wesleyan, to serve for a year, when he again tendered his resignation. On the 28th of June, 1898, full of years and honors, Senator Harlan accepted the chancellorship of the university, in which position he continued until his death. Iowa Wesleyan owes more to this good man than to any other. He gave 46 years of service to the board of trustees. Many years he was a member of the executive committee. Altogether he was president three years, and chancellor sixteen months. In all these capacities his counsels were valuable, his service able, his purse generous, his sacrifice ready, and his love lavish for this old college that filled such a large place in his life.

It seems eminently fitting that this noble and worthy man, whose sacrifice for this institution through forty-five continuous years, testified a devotion unusual and intense, should have had official connection in the evening-time of his life. Sweet of spirit, genial of disposition, interested to the last in the welfare of the humblest student registered in any department of the college, this official recognition gave him pleasure and Wesleyan distinguished honor. Born in 1820, graduated from Indiana Asbury in 1845, president first in 1853, again in 1869, and chancellor in 1898-99, James Harlan left the impress of his vigorous young manhood and the benediction of his ripened and mellowed life at its maturity upon

Iowa Wesleyan University. He, too, sleeps in Forest Home, but his memory is green and his name is precious everywhere in Iowa and in many parts of our great republic.

Following the resignation of Dr. Holmes, January 1, 1869, Rev. J. H. Hopkins, A.B., A.M., vice-president, was made acting president and served in that capacity under President Harlan, who was then in the U S. Senate, until June 9, 1870, when the Rev. John Wheeler, A. M., D. D., was elected president.

President Wheeler entered upon the duties of his office at the opening of the next school year and continued for a term of five years. He was not without college experience. He was known as the founder of Baldwin University at Berea, Ohio, where he had acquired valuable experience. He had also been a professor of Latin at Indiana Asbury. He was a successful and valuable administrator, instructor and Christian minister.

For the 15 years preceeding Dr. Wheeler's administration no realty had been acquired or buildings erected at Iowa Wesleyan. They had hoped long and prayed much. Dr. Wheeler was aggressive for results in this direction and succeeded in securing the affiliation of the Mt. Pleasant German College, an institution then organized and conducted under the auspices of the German branch of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

, By the terms of the contract between the trustees of Iowa Wesleyan University and the trustees of the Mt. Pleasant German College, the east campus, a tract of some five acres hereinbefore described, was bounded and defined in perpetual lease to the Mt. Pleasant German College, together with a building erected at a cost of some $16,000.00 under the direction of the trustees of Iowa Wesleyan, and at the expense of its treasury. This was done on the condition that the Mt. Pleasant German College provide immediately an endowment of $20,000.00 which, with the aid of the patrons of Wesleyan who gave $8,000.00 they did, and that they maintain forever an independent treasury supporting their own faculty and the expense of operating their own plant. In the event of the failure of the Mt. Pleasant German College to maintain an institution of the class and type agreed to, and the discontinuance of the Mt. Pleasant German College as an institution of learning, the building and property were to revert to Iowa Wesleyan University.

This proved a very helpful and valuable affiliation. It was a very good thing for the German Methodist people, who probably could not have maintained an independent college here, and also a very good thing for Iowa Wesleyan, affording to her advantages of instruction in the German language under teachers born to the tongue, such as probably she could not yet have had under other circumstances.

The German College did a valuable work. It had a succession of worthy and able presidents, whose names are given in the schedules appended to this sketch. The venerable R. Havinghorst, D.D., vice president from 1873-74; the able and philosophical Dr. Frederick Munz from 1893-97, and the polished, finished, gentleman and scholar, Rev. Edwin S. Havighorst, A. M., D. D., from 1898 to 1908; Dr. H. G. Leist, from 1908 to 1909, are personally known to the writer as men worthy their lofty callings and the high confidences imposed by the great church whose servants they are.

It is probable that the other presidents of the German College were not less worthy of mention, but limits of space and lack of information forbid more than the listing of their names as above noted.

During the administration of President Havinghorst, a beautiful German College Chapel was erected. It was begun in 1900 and completed in 1901, at a cost of $8,000.00, and served the double purpose of a chapel building for the college and a house of worship for the German Methodist people. As explained later in this sketch, the German college was, in 1909, merged with Central Wesleyan college at Warrenton, Mo. The buildings and property of the institution along with some $12,000.00 of endowment reverted, according to the terms of the original agreement, to Iowa Wesleyan University.

The administration of Dr. Wheeler was an agreeable and pleasant one. He was a hard worker, a man of large sympathies, congenial spirit, admired by the people and loved by the students. He severed his relation as president by resignation, June 16, 1875. He returned to the pastorate, and was a worthy and efficient Christian minister until his death, which occurred in 1881.

On June 16, 1875, the day that President Wheeler resigned, John M. Mansfield, A. M., an alumnus of Iowa Wesleyan, class of 1864, was elected vice-president, in which office he continued for one year. Professor Mansfield had the chair of Chemistry and Natural History from 1864 to 1877, and was well qualified and equipped by education and experience for the important duties incumbent upon him in the office of vice-president, which duties he discharged with faithfulness and efficiency.

At the resignation of President Wheeler, Professor Wesley J. Spaulding, who had been out of the faculty since 1864, was re-elected a member of the faculty and made acting president, which office he held from September 17, 1875 to September 7, 1876, when he was elected president. For about eight years Dr. Spaulding was president.

From 1879-81, Professor Wray Beatty, M. D., Ph. D., who was in the faculty from 1855 to 1864, and again from 1875 to 1881, was vice-president. Professor Beatty was an alumnus of Iowa Wesleyan, A. B., class of '57. He had also taken a scientific course at Ohio Wesleyan, where he graduated, B. S., in 1852.

President Spaulding was a student to the manor born. His was a very fine type of intellect. A scholar at graduation, he was a student always, and always with growing interest and increasing delight. He analyzed everything and everybody with unusual accuracy. His philosophical temperament, his great delight in educational work, his tendency to ever prompt the best thought and the deepest inquiry of the students, made him a popular president and worthy leader of growing youth and developing character. The years of his presidency were splendid years and the record is a worthy one.

During his administration the Mt. Pleasant Conservatory of Music, which had been in existence under Dr. A. Rommel, a German musician educated to the art in his native land, was transferred from its quarters in the east side of the city to Iowa's pioneer college building on the Wesleyan campus, and affiliated with Iowa Wesleyan University. This conservatory of music is among the first in the country. Its alumni stand high everywhere, and Dr. Rommel is recognized throughout the nation as a musician and a teacher of music of rare ability. From the time of the affiliation of the conservatory in 1877 until January 1905 Dr. Rommel's official title was Director of Music of Iowa Wesleyan University. At that time his title was changed to Dean, and it has since been and henceforth is to be Dean Rommel.

Vice-president under Dr. Spalding, 1882-84, was Rev. John T. McFarland, A. M., D. D., LL. D. Upon the resignation of Dr. Spalding in June 1884, Dr. McFarland was chosen president. J. T. Dickenson, A. M., succeeded him as vice-president, which office he occupied from 1884 to 1886. In 1887 Gus Walters, M. S., class of '79, was elected vice-president, and continued in that office until 1893, when he resigned. There has been no vice-president in office at Iowa Wesleyan since.

Dr. McFarland was educated at Iowa Wesleyan, but took his Baccalaureate degree at Simpson College. President McFarland had seven splendid years at Iowa Wesleyan. He enlarged and strengthened the faculty and gathered about him students in growing numbers, who more and more remained in college "for business." The alumni of those years are worthy men and women—strong men and women—whose average of scholarship and character is high.

Dr. McFarland was a profound thinker, and a very able preacher and platform speaker. The Sunday school and Tract publications of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of which he was elected editor by the General Conference of 1904, are ready witnesses to his ability as well as his adaptability.

In his administration the Chapel and Science Hall was conceived and planned. Under his inspiration the trustees began its erection. A subscription was secured, excavations were made, and a foundation put in in 1888. A careful inspection of the resources and liabilities was made. Foreseeing the danger of a heavily increased debt, Dr. McFarland said: "I would rather see that foundation under pine boards and tar paper for years than to see a building erected and a mortgage on it". Accordingly, a temporary roof of the type described was put over the foundation, and it remained for three years.

President McFarland was highly appreciated by the Conference. Their love for him and confidence in him was testified at the session of 1887, which elected him to the General Conference of 1888 with a very large vote.

In June, 1891, President McFarland resigned, and at the same meeting Rev. Charles L. Stafford, A. M., D. D., was elected his successor. Dr. Stafford was an alumnus of Iowa Wesleyan, class of '71. He was at the time of his election easily the leading pulpit orator of the Iowa Conference. President Stafford's leadership addressed itself early to the erection of the building already begun. A subscription was raised, and the original plans carried forward to the completion of what was called and is still known as the Chapel and Science Hall. It is a worthy brick structure, three stories high, and furnishes accommodations for science laboratories, library, offices, and several lecture halls. An important feature is the auditorium. This is a commodious amphitheatre-shaped room which, with its main gallery and back gallery, accommodates comfortably one thousand people, and is such an auditorium as any other College in Iowa might be proud to have. Notwithstanding it was erected during the trying times in 1892-93, when materials and labor were cheap, this building cost $45,000.00; and if it had to be constructed today the cost would probably increase that figure by $30,000.00.

With this new structure completed, Wesleyan's alumni, patrons and friends took courage. In 1895 Rev. J. F. Robertson, then pastor at Muscatine, who had been holding councils with one of his wealthy members, advised President Stafford that there was an encouraging prospect for help in his parish. Dr. Stafford visited Muscatine, and he and the Rev. Mr. Robertson having had personal interview with Mrs. Elizabeth Hershey, came away with her pledge to give $10,000 for a young woman's home at Wesleyan when the other patrons and friends of the institution should have pledged a like amount. The papers were executed, and a few days afterward this noble woman went to her final reward; but her work abides. The conditions were met and more, and today Elizabeth Hershey Hall, a three story and basement brick building, stands on the west campus, a monument to her devotion and that of the many friends who helped make her conditional subscription available. The structure was finished in 1897, at a cost of 32,500. It made provision for seventy young women, and is modern in every way; steam heat, electric light, toilet, beautiful parlors, woman's gymnasium, capacious dining room. Some of the interior construction was not completed until later. The gymnasium was finished and fitted in 1901, and later a number of rooms on the third floor. The total cost of this building to date has been about $40,000. President Stafford was busy with these material interests. He was an indomitable worker, a veritable toiler. He literally gave himself to this one work for eight years. He enjoyed a gratifying student patronage and a large measure of student support. His pulpit and platform utterances will long be remembered. The goodly numbers who graduated from Wesleyan under his administration are loyal to their Alma Mater and devoted to their president. Dr. Stafford was elected by his Conference to the General Conference of 1892 and that of 1896, both of which occurred during his administration. He was again chosen in 1900 and 1912 after he had returned to the pastorate. This repeated expression of confidence on the part of his brethren of the Conference is both an expression of the appreciation of his work and a testimonial of their personal esteem. In 1898 President Stafford resigned, the resignation to take effect in June 1899; and after eight eventful and fruitful years he severed his connection with the college.

Rev. Francis Durbin Blakeslee, A. M., D. D., was chosen to succeed him. Dr. Blakeslee had been some three and twenty years the head of East Greenwich Academy, Rhode Island. He was an alumnus of Syracuse University, cultured, refined, experienced, traveled and exceedingly well married. The west was not congenial to him, and after a presidency of one year he resigned, to accept the presidency of old Cazenovia Seminary in New York. During that year Mrs. Blakeslee was the vigilant and worthy preceptress at Elizabeth Hershey Hall. Dr. Blakeslee was a good man, with many elements of strength; and had he chosen to remain with Wesleyan for a term of years, doubtless he would have left the impress of his personality and leadership to a much larger degree than is possible to an administration of a single year. He and Financial Secretary Dr. T. J. Myers, put their heads together to raise the indebtedness. They secured the services of Bishop C. C. McCabe, and at the session of the Iowa Conference held at Mt. Pleasant in September, 1900, a goodly beginning was made. Thirty thousand dollars in conditional pledges were taken, but the going of Dr. Blakeslee before the completion of the $150,000 upon which these were contingent made the effort comparatively futile.

Following Dr. Blakeslee's resignation the trustees were in search of a president for eight months. During this time Professor Alba C. Piersel, A. B., A. M., of Ohio Wesleyan University, class of 1890, of the chair of Greek and Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, was acting president. Born and reared in a Methodist parsonage, quick of perception, keen of intellect, by nature a student, and essentially a scholar, Professor Piersel possessed many elements and qualifications for this important service. The chief aim of his year as acting president was to hold all the interests of the school firmly in hand and direct wisely and well until another president should be chosen. In these things he was successful. He sent out a loyal and worthy class, and closed his year with a Baccalaureate sermon that is to many who heard it a sweet memory.

On March 13, 1901, Rev. John W. Hancher, B.S., M.S., A.M., S.T.D., then pastor of the M. E. Church at Herkimer, N. Y., was elected president. He entered upon his duties early in May of that year. Until commencement he insisted that acting president Piersel should continue at the head of the institution, preach the Baccalaureate sermon and administer affairs. President Hancher was formally inaugurated Wednesday, June 11, 1901. Straightway he began organization looking to freedom from debt. Two and one-third years later $100,000 had been raised with which to free Wesleyan from debt.

President Hancher brought to Iowa Wesleyan fourteen years' experience in school work, six of them in the public schools where he began his public career as a teacher, and eight of them as college president. He loved his work and devoted himself to it with untiring zeal. For the more than six years of his presidency he was constant in his services at Wesleyan, except the month of May, 1904, in which he served his Conference as one of its chosen delegates to the General Conference at Los Angeles.

Almost immediately after the completion of the $100,000.00 debt-raising campaign,—a truly remarkable financial accomplishment, Dr. Hancher, with his tireless energy, immediately threw himself into the task of raising an emergency fund of $6,000 per year, to enable the school to meet all of its obligations. As in the previous campaign he was greatly assisted by Dr. T. J. Myers, and other loyal and faithful friends of Wesleyan, too numerous to mention. During the dark years when the college was under the cloud of a heavy indebtedness and the annual budget running far in excess of the income, little care could be paid to the physical condition of the plant. After the completion of these two funds, $5,000.00 was raised for the improvement and beautifying of the campus and grounds. As no competent man was available, Dr. Hancher personally superintended this work.

In addition to the splendid work along financial lines, Dr. Hancher was an educator of the truest type. His aim was to make Iowa Wesleyan a well-rounded institution; a school with a name and a standard. To that end he increased the faculty, strengthened it by the addition of strong men and women, so that Wesleyan was able to stand in the first class of colleges and universities of Iowa. The student body also received his attention, and the catalogues for each succeeding year of his administration showed a steady increase in the enrollment.

Dr. Hancher gave to Iowa Wesleyan six and one-half years of faithful, loyal, devoted and untiring service. During that period, he was twice called upon to undergo dangerous surgical operations. The nervous shock consequent thereupon together with the multiplicity of his responsibilities, almost culminated in a physical collapse, and in November, 1907, he was obliged to ask to be relieved from further service in connection with Iowa Wesleyan, in order that he might be permitted to rebuild his fast failing health.

For two years he was engaged in business pursuits in Old Mexico, where he was unusually successful, but the overthrow of the Diaz administration, consequent upon the revolution, destroyed his holdings and he returned to this country. Shortly thereafter, he was made counselor of Methodist colleges, and in this capacity, raised many thousands of dollars. In 1912, he was elected assistant secretary to the Board of Education. During this quadrennium, Dr. Hancher played a prominent part in the raising of over $13,000,000.00 for Methodist universities, colleges, academies and secondary schools. As appreciation of this service, the General Conference of 1916 made him Associate Secretary of the Board of Education and chairman of the Jubilee Commission. In this capacity, Dr. Hancher is now engaged in the most stupendous task of raising over $20,000,000.00 for Methodist schools. His service to Iowa Wesleyan, during the recent campaign for $500,000.00 of new endowment, is mentioned elsewhere in this sketch.

Just at the close of President Hancher's administration, November, 1907, Mrs. Robert T. Lincoln (Mary Harlan) deeded the old Harlan home, with the furniture and belongings, to the College. It is a fine old house where so many festivities of Senator Harlan's best days occurred. The lot has a frontage of two hundred feet and a depth approximately the same. Immediately upon the transfer of this valuable piece of property to the College, the Executive Committee ordered the installation of a new heating plant in the house and enlarged the basement, thereby adding greatly to the comfort and convenience of the old Harlan mansion.

Upon the resignation of President Hancher in the fall of 1907, a committee was at once appointed to find his successor. After the church had been thoroughly canvassed and scores of candidates had been considered the committee finally selected Edwin A. Schell, A. M., Ph. D., D. D., at that time District Superintendent of the Crawfordsville District of the Northwest Indiana Conference. The new president attended General Conference of 1908 and assumed his duties here in the latter part of May of that year.

President Schell was born at Deer Creek, Indiana, and was 48 years old at the time of his election. He graduated at Northwestern University, from which institution he also received the degree of A. M. During his college work he took the Kirk Oratorical prize, much coveted by Northwestern students. He was a Phi Beta Kappa man in his class. He served as pastor during his college course, building and organizing the Methodist church at Hammond, and while at that place he served as correspondent for the Chicago Tribune, and he counts this work a very important part of his training. He was admitted to the Northwestern Indiana Conference in 1886, having previously served as a supply for three years. After pastorates at South Bend, Ind., and Younkers, N. Y., he was elected General Secretary of the Epworth League and thereafter became for one year Secretary of the Epworth Hospital, South Bend, Indiana. The financial experience gained here and later in the district, and as dedicator of churches stood him in good stead after coming to Mt. Pleasant. After serving six years as Superintendent of the Crawfordsville district, where he had a record of assisting in the building of twenty-four churches and eighteen parsonages he was elected to the presidency of Iowa Wesleyan. He has always been a writer for current magazines, and a lecturer in wide demand. Illinois Wesleyan gave him the degree of Ph. D. for post graduate work in 1891, and Hedding college conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1892. December 1912 to June 1913, President and Mrs. Schell made a circumnavigating tour, and Dr. Schell lectured for three weeks to the Teachers' Assembly at Baguio, P. I., under the auspices of the Insular Government.

On the 6th of April 1907, Andrew Carnegie in a letter had promised $25,000 to the endowment on condition that the College would raise $75,000 and make the Carnegie Fund $100,000.00. This was the first work that engaged the attention of the new president and this fund was triumphantly completed April 6, 1910. This initial gift of Mr. Carnegie's was the largest ever given to the College up to this time. Meanwhile, in June 1909, Dr. A. C. Piersel, who had been the Dean, retired to enter the pastorate of the First Church at Springfield, Illinois, and Dr. Elmer E. Lymer was elected Dean. The first year of President Schell's administration was greatly disturbed by the moving of the German college and its merger with the institution at Warrenton, Missouri. The question of the transferring of the endowment was finally arbitrated before a committee of Bishops, consisting of the late Bishop Walden, Bishop Newlen and Bishop Anderson. The award of the Bishops that the amount should be equally divided, was after some months, changed by the parties interested therein so that Iowa Wesleyan received forty per cent. instead of the amount originally awarded. This became the basis of the Seventieth Year Endowment Fund, which was finished July 1, 1912, with an aggregate in money and property, approximating $100,000.

The installation of a fine central heating plant was the great work of the year 1910. A subscription was taken at the Board meeting in June of that year, among the Trustees and this was supplemented by a subscription at the Conference convened at Pella, Iowa, by which, and from other sources, about $6,000 was obtained. With that as a basis the plant was installed in the basement of the Chapel building at a cost of (including arrangement of the room, the chimney, and the plant itself), about $12,500. $5,000 of this sum was never raised and was carried in the National State Bank until the refunding of the floating indebtedness in June, 1912. In 1912 President Schell was invited to go as a special lecturer to the Teacher's Assembly, at Bagio, in the mountain province of Luzon, in the Philippine Islands, and he was absent during the first six months of 1913. The remainder of that year and 1914 were characterized by an insistent demand to increase the Educational Collection. This collection, little by little, had been growing under the loyal leadership of the District Superintendents of the Conference, until in the fall of 1913, it reached about $7,200. By this special campaign, which included rallies in each of the four districts, the collection in 1915 reached the high water mark of $11,200. The interest of the Conference has never flagged during these years.

The school year of 1914 was dignified by two events of more than passing importance. The largest class in the history of the school, forty-four in number, were given their diplomas. At commencement time, the college was singularly honored by the presentation of an oil painting of Dr. Charles Elliott, LL. D., the great war time president of the College, and editor of the Central Christian Advocate, by his daughter, Miss Phoebe Leech Elliott. The speech of acceptance by Ex-President, Charles W. Stafford, in which, in glowing terms, he paid tribute to this great servant of the church, will long be remembered.

At the Annual Conference at Winfield, the first after President Schell began to get acquainted, the Conference ordered that Friday evening should be kept free for the Educational Anniversary, and a banquet beginning at 5:30 p. m. followed by the Educational Address began to be the fashion. This has been the order every year since, and has given opportunity for the laymen and preachers of the Conference to express their devotion and even enthusiasm to the higher educational work carried on by the Conference.

President Schell is now completing his ninth year of service. This is a longer administration than was privileged to any of the eminent men who preceeded him in his office. It is significant to note that his crowning achievement, the completion of the Diamond Jubilee half million, came in the months when other presidents had left or were packing up preparatory to their departure.

President Schell has enjoyed the largest measure of success during these nine years. The endowment has grown from $60,000 to $750,000. The college enrollment has practically doubled. The faculty has been strengthened and new friends of the school added by the thousand. His past efforts are but a promise of what the future will hold. Each year by his presence the school will secure the unalloyed benefit of continuity and cumulation. The author feels that the whole situation in regard to Iowa Wesleyan is summed up in the closing paragraph of the President's Report to the Mid-Year meeting of the Trustees in February, 1917.

"Events have now proved true beyond all question what I have hesitatingly, often doubtingly, but always sincerely for almost nine years reiterated that we have here at Mount Pleasant and in the Iowa Conference, the opportunity for founding worthily and well, and the constituency for maintaining an institution of learning, that in its outcome will bless all mankind."

In May, 1915, the new pipe organ, perhaps one of the finest instruments in any college chapel in the state, after long years of expectancy, was finally installed. It exceeds, in both tone and size, the greatest expectations of all interested. This splendid addition to the college equipment was secured through the generosity of the congregation of St. James Church, of Chicago, the quick comprehension of a great opportunity by Mr. Hugh A. Cole, and the devoted faithfulness of the women of the Ladies' Organ Fund. Before the organ was installed, the interior of the chapel was re-decorated and a new roof put on.

The year 1915 opened with the College having a productive endowment of essentially $200,000, with certain lands whose value was approximately another $50,000 and it was already apparent that the progress the institution was making in students and in public influence required a leap forward rather than the slow growth by which it had been characterized. The Conference, which met at Centerville received a proposal from Parsons College for the merger of the two institutions and a special committee, consisting of President Schell, Mr. Hugh A. Cole, President of the Board of Trustees, Dr. C. L. Tennant, Dr. U. S. Smith, and Hon. H. M. Havner, were appointed to confer with the like committee appointed by Parsons College as to a merger of the two institutions. The Board of Trustees met twice in special session in October and November of the year and a tentative proposal from Ottumwa for the location of both institutions there, was given serious consideration by the College authorities, but the Parsons Board were apparently unfavorable to a removal from Fairfield and to a merger in Ottumwa. On December 20th of that year the special committee appointed by the Conference proposed to the citizens of Mount Pleasant and Henry County, that if they would raise $100,000 in good subscriptions the Conference—that is the territory outside of Henry County—would raise $150,000, and make an added quarter of a million for the endowment. This proposition was enthusiastically received and Mount Pleasant and Henry County completed their $100,000 by February 1, 1916. Even before that a special session of the Conference had been called at Ottumwa. At this session in the forenoon, the Conference under wrote the action of the committee which they had appointed and certain prominent laymen, who loved the institution, notably Hugh A. Cole, Carl S. Williams, Gardner Cowles, Chris Haw, W. J. Steckel, and others expressed the opinion rather forcibly that it would take a half million to make an adequate program to guarantee the future of the College and in the afternoon session the entire program was reconsidered. The Mount Pleasant contingent present agreed that if the Conference would raise $350,000 instead of the $150,000 which was formerly proposed, they would add another $50,000 to their offering, dividing the half million into $350,000 from the Conference and $150,000 from Mount Pleasant and Henry County. This rather staggering sum after much prayer and hesitation was voted and the work of the campaign was at once inaugurated.

Mr. Herbert N. Jeffrey, who had graduated with the class of 1914 and who had been assisting in the student campaign, was put in charge of the publicity department. President Schell, himself, assumed direction of the larger subscriptions, and Dr. John W. Hancher, of the Board of Education, came back to render his fine service in the way of the popular subscriptions; with two notable interruptions for the General Conference and for the summer months, the campaign went forward and was triumphantly concluded on January 1, 1917.

Meanwhile at the March meeting of the North Central Association, Iowa Wesleyan was accorded membership in that standardizing educational body. In November preceding, the University Senate recognized the College as a standard institution of the Church and with the membership of the College in the Association of American Colleges, its rank became unquestionably settled and has not since been challenged. Columbia University was one of the last institutions to accept its degrees as full entrance requirements for their post-graduate courses of study and the rating of the College is now standard and the committee appointed to arrange a program for the celebration of its "Diamond Jubilee" is able to report to the public that the College has approximately $750,000 productive endowment and the friends of Christian Education in this section of the state may make their benefactions with the knowledge that the College shall in all probability stand for a thousand years.

Soon after the opening of the fall semester in 1916 Dr. E. E. Lymer, who for seven years had acted as Dean and Auditor, was elected president of Gooding College, Gooding, Idaho. He was one of a long list of eminent men who had left the college for important educational or ministerial positions. It will be remembered that President Harlan was elected to the United States Senate; President Elliott was elected Editor of the Central Christian Advocate, while President McFarland went to a pastorate at Bloomington, from whence after several changes he came to the editorship of the Sunday school publications of the Methodist church. Dr. Hancher became Associate Secretary of the Board of Education, and Dr. Piersel went to a pastorate at Springfield, Illinois, and later became District Superintendent of the Urbana district. During Dean Lymer's service, Professor Gardner went to Kansas University, Professor G. Ware Stephens to the University of Maine, while Professors Behymer, Hedges, Daugherty, and the Misses DeNice and Rader had all been elected to advanced positions elsewhere. The election of Dr. Lymer as President of a college was therefore entirely in order and his abilities and scholarship made it altogether not an unexpected promotion. On his retirement October 20th, Dr. R. E. Luebbers, Iowa Wesleyan, 1909, who received his post-graduate degree from Boston, and after a year in Europe had taken the chair of Political Economy, was elected Dean to fill the vacancy, created upon the departure of Dr. Lymer. Mr. Adam Weir, also a graduate of the institution, was elected Auditor, thereupon separating the offices of Dean and Auditor, which together had been filled for many years so creditably by Dr. Lymer.

The statement that we have too many Methodist Colleges in Iowa is no longer put forward with the assurance that formerly characterized it. There are five standard Methodist colleges in Iowa or one for each 65,000 members approximately: the Disciples of Christ have one college and they have only 60,720 members: the Lutherans have two colleges and 10,700 members: the Baptists have two colleges and less than 40,000 members: the Congregationalists have two colleges and less than 36,000 members: the Presbyterians have six colleges and only 47,000 members in the entire state—one college to each 7,843 members. The United Brethren with 10,000 membership and the Friends with 6,600 members each maintain a college. The question is fully as clear when judged by the number of students that these colleges have been able to attract and help into a larger life. By comparison with Minnesota, where there is only one institution, the Iowa plan reaches approximately five times as many; and the same comparison with Kansas where there are three Methodist colleges and Nebraska, where there is only one; and between Ohio, where there are four, and either Indiana or Michigan where there is only one, brings the same conclusion.

The College now needs the rebuilding of practically all of its physical plant and the enlargement and new installation of equipment. A gymnasium for men and another for women is almost imperative. The gymnasium in the Y. M. C. A. was built when the emphasis was not put on basketball that has since been accorded it, and some quarters that are of regulation size must be found for the College teams. The young women of the institution especially need greater outlet for their activities and a woman's building perhaps as an annex to Hershey Hall is absolutely necessary. A new library building, a new science hall, and the repair and rearrangement of the Pioneer building and its conservation must be considered in any liberal program for the future of the institution.

Endowment

In addition to the property described in this sketch, which is conservatively valued at $200,000, about $750,000 of endowment has been gathered through the years. This accumulation of endowment has been going on during the past half century.

This college probably saw its darkest days during the Civil War, when as has been shown, the student ranks were more or less depopulated by volunteers to the army, and when without a dollar of endowment and $57,000 of debt, they were trying to carry on their worthy work. This heavy burden was discharged after the close of the war and the work of building endowment begun.

Oliver Hoyt, of New York, gave $15,000 in cash. This was procured through the efforts of Rev. Thos. E. Corkhill, Mr. Hoyt, stating that he placed the money at Wesleyan out of admiration for Senator Harlan.

Ex-Governor Claflin gave several hundred acres of land in Louisa County, which afterwards was sold, and the money applied partly to endowment and partly to the general fund.

Mr. Timothy Whiting left by will $5,000, which formed the nucleus for the funds with which to build the Chapel and Science Hall. Rev. George N. Power, long a member of the Iowa Conference and a valued councilor of the board of trustees, left $5,000 by bequest, on the annuity plan, in favor of his adopted son.

As described elsewhere, in this sketch, Andrew Carnegie, in 1907, promised $25,000 conditional upon the completion of the total sum of $100,000. This was finished under the administration of Edwin A. Schell, in April 1910. In 1911, another campaign for $100,000.00 known as the Seventieth Year Endowment, was launched. President Schell, with the help of his assistant, Dr. H. N. Smith, completed this fund in July 1912. For a period of practically three years there were no organized efforts to increase the endowment fund. It was readily apparent, however, that a campaign for any sum less than $250,000.00 would not insure the stability of the school. After an honest effort had been made to combine with some other school or schools, the constituency of Iowa Wesleyan, in March, 1916, launched the Diamond Jubilee campaign, for $500,000.00. This was completed January 1st, 1917.

We will not have space to print all the names of the people who have made subscriptions to the permanent endowment fund of the college. The total amount of endowment, at the time the last Alumni Record was printed, (1905) was barely $60,000.00. Very many small gifts were necessary to complete even this meager amount. Such gifts are usually not spontaneous. They must always be promoted. To do this, our college has had a long line of financial agents from the beginning.

Sometimes there were a number of years when no agent was employed, but for the most part the aggregations of funds for endowment or buildings from many small contributions have been procured by agents. Of these there have been nineteen. We are absolutely without data to show the results of the faithful services of many of these. Rev L. B. Dennis, the centennary agent who began service in 1866, achieved worthy results in endowment, as did Rev. I. A. Bradrick, Rev. George N. Power, Rev. J. T. Simmons, and Rev. Thomas E. Corkhill. Rev. W. F. Cowles also has a sturdy record in this line. We are embarrassed not to be able to furnish details of the results of the efforts of these worthy men.

The last financial agent was Rev. Dr. T. J. Myers, whose period of service continued from 1897 to 1902. He was treasurer as well as agent. Dr. Myers took charge following the awful depression of '92 and '93, which had swept over Europe and America and had wrecked thousands of business enterprises and hundreds of fortunes. Business was sulky, people were over-cautious, contributions were limited and difficult to secure. This heroic servant of God and the Church, after some months of service, foresaw the impossibility of raising funds to liquidate the large and growing debt extant at that time, but he rallied a few friends, and he and they, being men of property, put behind the institution their personal credit and held the business interest at Wesleyan steady until the country could recover from its embarrassed and alarmed condition.

Iowa, being an agricultural country, had not suffered nearly so much as other parts of the country, but Iowa, being a cautious country as well as an agricultural one, had become imbued with the notion that she had suffered tremendously. Hence the necessity of waiting until an opportune time. Meanwhile the authorities of the college, under the financial secretaryship of this earnest man and the faithful service of President Stafford, waited and prayed and hoped for better days. History will never be able to record the anxious days and nights spent by T. J. Myers, nor the financial value of his service to Iowa Wesleyan rendered at that time.

Under the presidency of Dr. Blakeslee a movement to raise $150,000 was begun, and some $30,000 conditionally pledged. This included the $12,000 promised by Senator Harlan. The outlook for final victory seemed hopeful, but the resignation of Dr. Blakeslee unsettled hopes and brought discouragement, and again they were obliged to hold still.

After the administration of President Hancher was well begun and a new finance movement was in progress, Dr. T. J. Myers, still continuing financial secretary, which office he ably filled until September, 1902, was untiring in a service whose value is beyond measure. His intimate acquaintance with the college, his gifted understanding of and friendship for men, his splendid financial standing and his loyalty to the administration as well as to the school, made him a strong tower upon which to lean, and the new president, leaning heavily, never found him wanting.

Trustees Long In Service

The longest trustee record is six and forty years. This service was rendered by Hon. James Harlan, to whom proper attention has been paid in this sketch, in the notice of his presidency.

Rev. Dr. W. F. Cowles, a trustee from 1855 to 1899, and for many years an officer of the board, is deserving of special and worthy mention. Every interest of his life was closely identified with Wesleyan, during all those years.

Rev. Thomas E. Corkhill served as a member of the board from 1855 to 1897. He was abundant in sacrifices and gifts, according to his means. Here his children were educated, and here his love was centered.

Hon. Washington I. Babb, A. B., A. M., L. L. D., of the class of 1866, has just rounded out his forty-third year of active service as a member of the board. For twenty-three years he was treasurer of the college, and for thirty-three years he was a member of the executive committee.

The late George Haw, of Ottumwa, was for twenty-seven years a member of the board, and its president from 1899 until his resignation in 1904.

Dr. Thomas J. Myers, of the class of 1865, is now serving his thirtieth year. Dr. Myers is treasurer of the college, a member of the executive committee, and a man whose advice is sought constantly.

Others who have filled the office of trustee, fifteen or more years are:

E. L. Penn, 29 years.	W. S. Withrow, 26 years,
Charles Snider, 28 years,	E. W. Twining, 21 years,
J. T. Hackworth, 28 years.	Rev. T. S. Pool, 19 years.
Carl S. Williams, 26 years,	Rev. W. R. Cole, 18 years.
Rev. D. C. Smith, 25 years,	Rev. W. G. Wilson, 13 years.
Henry Ambler, 24 years,	Charles F. Carver, 18 years.
Mrs. M. S. Huston, 23 years,	Rev. J. A. Boatman, 17 years.
Dr. Wellington Bird, 22 years.	Rev. M. H. Hare, 17 years.
Rev. Dr. J. C. W. Cox, 21 years.	W. J. Steckel, 17 years.
Rev. Dr. J. W. McMillan, 21 yrs.	Rev. I. O. Kemble, 15 years.
Rev. Dr. G. N. Power, 19 years.	Rev. I. A. Bradrick, 15 years.

Rev. Dr. W. B. Stoddard, 19 years,

If anybody is not properly recognized or over-recognized in these statements, be it known that this chronicler has been diligent, far reaching in inquiry, abundant in effort, and almost sleepless in time to find out everything—and be just to everybody. Any failure of justice to anybody will cause him more grief than it can possibly cause any other.

We have written of the material and educational development of Wesleyan by administrations from Huestis to Schell. Many important facts have not been stated, and should we write all we know or have heard there would still remain important data unmentioned. The simple listing of the names of the trustees from the beginning, without other mention, requires pages of this book. To discuss trustees, visitors, agents, secretaries, donors, patrons, and make worthy mention of all would of itself require volumes.

Faculty Members Long In Service

Three members of the faculty not including Dean A. Rommel of the Conservatory of Music, whose forty years of beloved service have been fittingly mentioned in this record, have served sufficiently long in the college that some special mention of their merit and their unexcelled work should not be omitted. Any college faculty is fortunate to have among its ranks, three such pre-eminent teachers as Professors Booth, Edwards and Eaton.

Dr. Lucy A. Booth, Ph. D., came to Iowa Wesleyan in February, 1897, preceding Professors Edwards and Eaton almost an entire year, thereby ranking as senior member of the College Faculty, aside from Dr. Rommel of the Conservatory of Music. She was elected a member of Phi Beta Kappa from her class, and this will indicate her scholarship during undergraduate days. She studied for her Doctor's degree at Ohio State University, and is accounted there, as here, one of the most engaging and thorough scholars in the field of History that the country affords. The research method which she has always adhered to, has produced some rather superior work by various students of her classes, and enhanced the college reputation among scholars the state over. She is a member of the Rambler's Club, and has assisted several years in arranging courses for that select group of women, that has given the club high literary standing. Recently she spent the summer vacation and some weeks of the autumn in travel abroad, and came home to enrich the sessions of the University Club and the Rambler's Club as well, with critical and recitative discourses very helpful to those who have been permitted to hear them.

Professor John W. Edwards, a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, came to Iowa Wesleyan in 1898. He had previously obtained his Master's degree from Tufts college. Professor Edwards has added to his fine work in Chemistry and Physics, in both of which he is an acknowledged authority, several outside activities. He served as Grand Commander of the Knights Templars for Iowa; and for two terms on the City Council of Mount Pleasant, and also on the School Board. His analytical chemistry work in several liquor cases, and his popularity among the citizens has endeared him to the entire community as well as to the student body of the college. He is a member of the Iowa School of Science, and a reliable member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Professor Arthur L. Eaton, a member of Beta Theta Pi, is rather reserved in his life, and devoted to the church and student work. He began in the college in 1898 as head of the Latin department, but lately has had the Greek also in charge. With the rapid turn to Spanish on the part of incoming students, he took up the study of that language and has brought to the instruction in the language his superb pedagogical training. He has been for several years a student in the summer school of Chicago University, and is an authority on all matters of language. Upon the election of Dr. Lymer as Dean, in 1909, he was appointed by President Schell as Registrar. He is one of the great teachers of Iowa.

The Diamond Jubilee Half Million

History has not always been kind to Iowa Wesleyan. In looking back through the long reach of the years, it would almost seem as if the college had not received its just proportion of the material blessings that go to make up an institution of higher learning. We can pick out several decades when there was almost no financial gain. This is not, however difficult of explanation for those who have followed the story of Iowa Wesleyan from the beginning. For years the future of the institution has been clouded by indebtedness and inadequate financial resources. Only the loyalty and abiding faith and the promise of a few friends imbued with the vision of a great constituency in a great territory the "Garden Spot of Iowa", kept the institution alive. The months between September 1916 and January 1, 1917 will long be remembered. They were the critical days. History gave us more than than in all the seventy three years preceding. For two months, Iowa Wesleyan as a Mount Pleasant institution, in the home of its traditions and its history, seemed likely to become a thing of the past. Merger with some other school, or an uprooting to another locality appeared to be the only solution to the difficulty. Finally after all of these opportunities had been sifted out, driven on by the spur of necessity, the college lifted its horizon, made its appeal to the people, and the half million of which we write, insuring perpetuity for years to come, was the glorious response.

It seems peculiarly fitting that the history of this great endeavor, with results far in excess of the dreams of the most optimistic supporters of the institution a few brief months ago, should be permanently set down in more or less detail.

When the Carnegie and 70th Year Funds aggregating $200,000 were raised, the Board well realized that this sum was altogether inadequate for a modern college. But a campaign directly following these two endeavors for still larger sums seemed scarcely feasible. The University Senate of the Methodist Church decreed that a college to be ranked as "Standard" must have $200,000 of productive endowment over and above all debts and sums upon annuity. January 1, 1916, was set as the date for all schools to comply with this requirement or be demoted. Under this pressure, for Iowa Wesleyan could not comply with the requirements, the Trustees and friends of the institution began to cast around for some way out of the difficulty. At the annual Conference held in Centerville in September, 1915, a proposition came from Parsons College of Fairfield, Iowa, for the union of Parsons, Simpson and Iowa Wesleyan under the name "Iowa Union College". The Union College to be located at either Mount Pleasant, Fairfield or Indianola as deemed most advisable. Control was to be vested in a Board of Trustees elected by the two Methodist Conferences, the Iowa Synod of the Presbyterian church and the Trustees of the colleges.

The Board was to be self perpetuating as regards 60 per cent of its membership—Twenty-five per cent of this initial membership to come from each Simpson and Wesleyan and 50 per cent from Parsons. The remaining 40 per cent to be proportioned to the two Methodist Conferences and the Iowa Synod.

A committee of five was appointed by the Iowa Conference consisting of Edwin A. Schell, U. S. Smith, C. L. Tennant, Hugh A. Cole, and Horace M. Havner. This committee was given authority to act with like committees from Simpson and Parsons, and in the advent of the Des Moines Conference not appointing a committee, with the one from Parsons for a union of the two schools. Simpson College and the Des Moines Conference never accepted the proposal and no committee was appointed.

The two committees met but it was soon apparent that no equitable basis of union could be agreed upon. It was however determined that there was a "distinct field in this section of Iowa for one College only". A special meeting of the Board of Trustees was called for October 27th to consider the report of the Committee of Five.

At this time rumors of a transfer of the College began to make themselves heard. A special meeting of the Board was called for November 11, 1915. At this time a Committee from the Ottumwa Commercial Club invited the Trustees to transfer the college to Ottumwa. The following resolutions were passed:

"That we urge the commission to give due consideration to any definite proposals that may be made and report the same to the Board.

"That we appoint the Commission as raised by the Iowa Conference (Edwin A. Schell, Hugh A. Cole, H. M. Havner, U. S. Smith, C. L. Tennant) as our committee.

The proposal from Ottumwa never reached definite terms financially. The committee met several times with the Ottumwa Commercial Club. An effort was also made to induce Parsons College to consider a joint union with Wesleyan at Ottumwa. Finally in December the Committee of Five, deeming that it was useless to further prolong negotiations with either Parsons or Ottumwa made a proposal to the Mount Pleasant Commercial Club that if Henry county would raise $100,000 by January 27, that the school would be continued permanently here, and that within a period of three years the Iowa Conference would add an additional $150,000. The Commercial Club accepted the proposal of the Committee. The date for the launching of the campaign was set for January 1, 1916. After all efforts to secure expert outside assistance had failed, a local committee was appointed of which Adam Weir was chairman.

The Henry County campaign will long be remembered. When it was inaugurated there were not a half dozen men who dreamed that it could be successful. Big gifts that were hoped for did not materialize. The people felt that the task was too great. But the Committee threw themselves into the task with a dauntless courage. Progress was slow. Two days before the closing hour, with every prospect canvassed, there was a shortage of thirty thousand dollars. The women of the Iowa Wesleyan Guild, then organized and for two days of bitter weather canvassed every home in the city. Inspired and enthused by their devotion the campaign took new life and one hour before the closing time on the night of January 28, 1916, the goal was reached, with a considerable margin to the good.

This exhibition of loyalty and sacrificial giving fired the Iowa Conference and friends of the school with enthusiasm.

The Board of Trustees met February 16, and ratified the action of the Committee of Five, and resolved to ask the Iowa Conference for $300,000 instead of $150,000 making a total of $400,000. On February 17, the Iowa Conference met in special session at Ottumwa, and amidst the greatest enthusiasm ratified the Conference program for $300,000. In the afternoon the Henry County delegation proposed to raise $50,000 additional if the Conference would raise $350,000, making a grand total of $500,000. This motion was passed unanimously.

"Kick-Off Sunday" or "Launching Day" was set for March 12th. Bishop Bristol was selected as the Campaign Chairman, T. J. Myers, Treasurer, Thomas Osborn, Secretary, E. E. Lymer, Auditor, and Herbert N. Jeffey, Publicity Manager. Assisted by a great concourse of Bishops, College presidents, educators, ministers and laymen, the campaign was presented to the congregations of the Iowa Conference on Sunday, March 12th.

The Central office was maintained at Mount Pleasant and the Conference organized around the District Superintendents. Under the Superintendents were the group chairmen and the final units were the separate pastoral charges. Literally thousands of pieces of mail matter were sent out from the central office educating and informing the people of the purpose and the progress of the campaign.

The original closing date was set for April 25th. But as Gleaning Sunday fell on Easter the date was moved up one week. The campaign came up to Gleaning Sunday approximately $160,000 short of the total amount. However the campaign committee was confident that this sum would be forthcoming, when the matter was presented in all the churches of the Conference, on "Gleaning Sunday."

But "Gleaning Sunday" was a failure owing to a torrential rain, general over the entire Conference which ceased not throughout the day. In many charges no services were held at all. Owing to the proximity of General Conference the active campaign work was closed down during the month of May. The Publicity office was kept open and the organization continued intact. The campaign was re-opened on June 10, and closed June 25. At the closing hour there was a shortage of $50,000 which was underwritten by the Mount Pleasant Commercial Club. This sum was later raised by means of a "still hunt campaign" under the leadership of President Schell.

It would be impossible in this sketch which has already grown too long to give due credit to all the loyal friends who gave of their time and their counsel and their substance in this titanic endeavor. The inestimable services of Dr. John W. Hancher, representing the Board of Education, has been referred to elsewhere. Only those who were with him at the desks from early morning until long after midnight, for thirty consecutive nights know how he gave of his time, strength and energy.

The Campaign could not have been successful without President Schell. The cumulative results of his eight years of service told in this supreme crisis. His work was brilliant.

With a nervous energy that was tireless he went the length and breadth of the Conference looking for the larger subscriptions. For days at a time he would not be near the office, but a string of telegrams carrying cheer in large figures appraised the central desk of his whereabouts. Practically unaided President Schell turned in subscriptions aggregating roundly $128,000. This does not include the part that he played in other gifts.

The devotion of such long tried friends of the college as Hugh A. Cole, Carl S. Williams, Chris Haw, Gardner Cowles, T. J. Myers, P. M. Musser, W. J. Steckel, G. T. Pulliam, A. Weir, H. C. Weir, R. W. Moore, the District Superintendents, the pastors, the laymen, the alumni, and a thousand others, will never be forgotten.

The biggest thing about the Jubilee Campaign was not the money raised, and we do not underestimate that feature, but bigger than mere money, bigger than a great endowment, bigger than an adequate income, is friendship. All of these things depend upon that, and the Diamond Jubilee closed with friends added by the thousands. The work is not completed. There will be other campaigns; new buildings and equipment are urgently needed, but all this will come now. Our perpetuity and our usefulness are guaranteed.

Ladies' College Organ Association

This association was organized October, 1892 with the following officers:

President, Mrs. C. L. Stafford.

Recording Secretary, Mrs. Lydia Siberts.

Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Alice Taylor.

Treasurer, Mrs. H. T. Bird.

These ladies were very energetic and persevering for many years and by entertainments, dues and donations from time to time, raised more than two thousand dollars. Then Mr. J. D. Smith left a legacy of one thousand dollars to the association. With a number of smaller donations they increased their fund until in the spring of 1915 the ladies were enabled to pay the entire cost of installation and rebuilding of one of the best pipe organs installed in any public building in the state of Iowa.

It was the object of the Association from its inception to place in the Chapel Auditorium an organ which as to both size and quality would be in keeping with the dignity of the building which it was to grace, and to their steadfastness of purpose through all the years which they labored and struggled to collect a fund adequate for the object which they had undertaken, the college owes an eternal debt of gratitude.

Many times were they prevailed upon, almost under pressure, to allow their accumulation to be used to install an organ, inferior both as to size and quality, to the ideal which they had set for their attainment. Dr. Rommel's opinion however was, that no organ at all, was better than one which would in any way detract from the splendid Chapel Auditorium in which it was to be placed. Wiser council always prevailed and the ladies kept their money out on interest and bided their time. Prospects for an organ in this generation indeed looked dark, until like a pleasant dream came the announcement of the splendid gift from the St. James Church. It is doubtful if this gift could have been realized upon, had it not been for the foresight of and ready money in the hands of the ladies; for to remove, box, crate and ship the parts of this mammoth instrument, and then re-assemble it in the chapel upon its arrival, rebuilding and rearranging, some parts also being necessary, would require between $2,500.00 and $3,000.00. The ladies upon hearing of the proposition immediately realized that the time for which they had looked forward to and longed for was now at hand. Their ready co-operation and financial assistance thus enabled the college to take advantage of an opportunity to secure an organ which for sweetness of tone, size, adaptability and registration is equalled by few, if any organ used for similar purpose in the State of Iowa.

The dedicatory recital given in April 1915 at the College chapel upon the completion of the organ drew a large and appreciative audience. All honor to the loyal public spirited women who so patiently wrought and reached their goal, of whom were Miss Mary I. Snyder, Mrs. Alice L. Taylor, Mrs. Belle R. Leech, Mrs. Amelia Penn, Mrs. Florence McKibbin, Mrs. Walter E. Keeler, Mrs. C. S. Rogers, Miss Ida Van Hon Mrs. Abbie E. Crane and many others whose names are not on record.

The association rests from its labors, but its voice of melody will long be heard, inspiring responsive chords of harmony in the soul of the present student body as well as in that of generations yet unborn.

The Woman's Guild of Iowa Wesleyan College

In June 1899, Mrs. Lavanda Gassner Murphy presented a plan for enlisting the women of the Iowa Conference in work for the College, to the Board of Trustees and also to the Executive Committee, in which they heartily concurred. Pursuant to the plan, October 2, 1899 the Woman's Guild of the Iowa Wesleyan College was organized in Elizabeth Hershey Hall, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

The following were the charter members:

Mrs. Charles C. McCabe, (wife of Bishop McCabe).

Mrs. Lavanda Gassner Murphy.

Mrs. Julia Baldwin McKibbin.

Mrs. Lillian Kendig Rogers.

Miss Ella Penn.

The officers elected for 1899-1900 were:

President, Mrs. Lavanda Gassner Murphy, West Liberty, Iowa.

First Vice President, Mrs. M. B. Huston, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa

Second Vice President, Mrs. J. W. Stark, Keokuk, Iowa.

Third Vice President, Mrs. J. E. Newsom, Wellman, Iowa.

Fourth Vice President, Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Grinnell, Iowa.

Fifth Vice President, Mrs. Chris Haw, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Corresponding and Field Secretary, Mrs. Julia B. McKibbin, Keosauqua, Iowa.

Recording Secretary, Mrs. C. S. Rogers, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

Treasurer, Mrs. Walter E. Keeler, Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

Resident Board of Managers:

Mrs. F. D. Blakeslee

Miss Ella Penn

Mrs. N. H. Ambler

Miss Mary I. Snyder

Mrs. T. J. Myers

Professor Lucy Booth

Miss Martha McClure.

The first work of the Guild was to assist in the debt raising campaign which was undertaken during President J. W. Hancher's administration and to help in the enlargement of the College endowment. Over five thousand dollars was raised and paid to the treasurer of the College.

In the last campaign for endowment the ladies of the Guild gave more than three thousand dollars in pledges for the fund and in addition to this, valuable service of time and encouragement which tided the Mt. Pleasant Campaign through a crisis at the darkest hour of the undertaking, and thus assisted nobly in bringing the enterprise through to an ultimate success. Further details concerning the helpfulness of the Guild in this movement are noted in the narrative of the "Diamond Jubilee Endowment Effort."

The personnel of the officers remained nearly the same from 1900 to 1915. Mrs. Murphy has served as president all these years.

After paying all obligations, in June 1915, "The Guild" was re-organized on a broader basis, when every woman in the City, County and Iowa Conference was cordially invited to become members. One hundred and fifty women gave their names and much enthusiasm was aroused throughout the Conference, during the campaign for endowment. The work assumed for the year 1915-16 was to assist in keeping the library up to the required standard, which was again taken as its work for 1916-17.

The officers for 1916-17 are:

President, Mrs. Lavanda Gassner Murphy.

First Vice President, Mrs. Adam Weir.

Second Vice President, Mrs. R. S. Galer.

Third Vice President, Mrs. Will Dyll.

Fourth Vice President, Miss Mary Guss.

Fifth Vice President, Mrs. Dennis Morony.

Sixth Vice President, Miss Ida Van Hon.

Seventh Vice President, Mrs. Charles Swanson.

Eighth Vice President, Mrs. Geneva Harshbarger.

Recording Secretary, Mrs. Lulu Ingersoll.

Miss Ella Penn

Mrs. M. B. Huston

Miss Mary I. Snyder

Miss Nellie Wallbank

Standing Committees:

Finance—Miss Barbara R. Fouche, Miss Nellie Wallbank, Mrs. H. Wade Gillis, Mrs. W. F. Kopp and Mrs. V. D. Morris.

Membership—Mrs. Ben Hur Wilson, Mrs. J. J. Pitcher, Mrs. Eliza Palmer, Mrs. H. G. Leist and Mrs. Warren Rogers.

Social—Mrs. W. H. Evans, Mrs. Adam Weir, Mrs. C. F. Applegate, Mrs. George P. McKibbin and Mrs. Jas. T. Whiting.

Surely with the co-operation of the intelligent, loyal women of the City, County and Iowa Conference, the Woman's Guild of the College will have a magnificent future.

The Alumna Association

It is probable that the early history of the Alumna Association is lost for ever. The records in the hands of the officers go back but a few years, the books having been lost, or in the hands of some one unknown. The annual catalogue, however, helps out somewhat, giving the names of the officers of the association as far back as 1897, or twenty years ago, but back of that there are no records whatever, as to the organization. It is evident, however, that there was such an organization, for as far back as 1878 reference is made in the yearly catalogue of the "annual reception and banquet of the alumni," and some of the older resident members state that in those days there was annually elected a staff of officers, and that the annual banquet was not only a flow of soul, but a genuine feast of reason. However, it has been impossible to secure even a tentative list of officers prior to 1878 and it is doubtful if one can be secured at this time.

For many years the organization of the alumni was a perfunctory matter to be gone through with at the annual meeting, when a handful of them would gather, to elect officers, collect enough dues to pay the accumulated bills, and let it go at that. Since, however, the association has been called upon to take an active part in the management of the school, by reason of electing every year two members of the Board of Trustees, there has been much more interest in the organization. Then again, the records have been put in permanent condition. System has been introduced, card systems established and the collection of dues has resulted in a treasury with a balance continually on the right side and funds at hand to take care of the nominal expenses of the work of the association. The alumni association is now undertaking to keep in constant touch with every member of the alumni of the school from the time he graduates until his activities are over, to keep the interest of the alumni constantly keen, to keep the "Old Grad" at all times informed of his "Alma Mater," and keep alive the affection of student for the old college halls.

It is now recognized and was emphasized during the recent successful campaign for a half million dollars that a great mistake had been made in permitting the old students to drift away from the college, and to arouse the old affection for the school, to reawaken the old memories of hall and campus is now the definite purpose and work of the association. During the great campaign it was found that the whereabouts of many of the alumni was not known and, in too many cases it was found that the former students had been away so long and had heard from the old school so seldom that vital interest had well nigh died out, and appeals for financial assistance fell on ears that would not hear.

The following are the officers of the Association as far back as the records show.

The Museum

The early history of the museum is uncertain in many particulars. It is plain, however, that the original nucleus, whatever it may have been, around which the now splendid collection has been built, was quite small.

Mrs. M. J. Kelly who was the professor of Natural Science from 1855 to 1861, served also as curator of the museum. Due to her skill in taxidermy, a number of mammals, and birds were mounted and made a part of the collection. Whether or not this marks the beginning of the museum, the collection first attained such dimensions as to interest the students, under the care of this talented woman.

It was housed in those days in the Main building in the small room at the head of the stairs on the second floor, being the room now used as the Croaker office. At another time it was kept on the first floor in the northeast room now occupied by the Art Department .

As the museum grew it came to require more space than could then be afforded it on the campus. It was accordingly placed down town and occupied up stairs rooms in one of the business buildings on the north side of the square and at another time on the east side of the square.

When the present Chapel building was completed, the old chapel room, comprising the entire east end of the third floor of the Main building, became available for the museum. In recent years this room has been devoted entirely to the natural history division and the small room adjoining at the west has been fitted up to display the relics and Ethnological specimens. It is there that the visitor today goes to view the museum.

After the Civil war a number of war relics were contributed from various sources, while through the influence of Senator Harlan, several pieces of interest and value came from the government. Space will not permit the mentioning of all who have added their part to the collection for many of the friends of the school have given articles of interest. However, two contributors should have especial mention: One is Dr. J. M. Schaffer of Keokuk, who has presented many valuable mounted specimens of birds and mammals. In fact a very large part of the entire museum is the contribution of that globe trotter and ardent naturalist. The other is Mr. Charles Buettner of Burlington. In his travels Mr. Buettner visited almost every accessible corner of the globe. With eyes wide open to everything of interest, he got away from the travel-worn paths and saw things not found by the tourist of usual type. Some little idea of the scope of his work may be had in the fact that it took four railroad cars to hold his contributions to the museum. But his collection ranks higher in value than in bulk. The specimens have been well collected and uniquely mounted. Many of these represent rare forms, while several species now extinct are thus preserved to future generations.

The size, scope and educational value of Wesleyan's museum is appreciated by only a few. In the relic room are found treasures relating to the history of our own and other countries and utensils, implements of warfare, and other articles of human interest that offer opportunity for hours of thoughtful study. In the natural science collection the fields of Mineralogy, Geology, Paleontology and Zoology are well represented. Aside from the splendid herbarium containing specimens of over eight hundred species of the flowering plants of Henry county, collected and presented to the College by Mr. Henry Mills, '70, the botanical division is poorly represented and should receive more attention. On the other hand the Zoological division exceeds all the others combined in numbers of specimens. Most of the classes of animals are represented, but the birds are best represented of all. This collection of birds is probably the most complete one in the middle west.

The museum is opened without charge to all visitors and every year many avail themselves of the opportunity to look it over. It is of especial value to the natural science classes of the college and to the public schools who visit it from time to time.

Alumni and friends of the college can aid materially in building a still greater museum by contributing relics and natural history specimens that they may be able to locate. Mounted specimens or the properly preserved skins of birds, reptiles and mammals, specimens of insects, fossil remains, botanical specimens, Indian relics, old or foreign articles of interest, are all especially desirable.

It is hoped that with the coming of the new Library and Science buildings the museum may be displayed in the corridors where it will be more accessible to the public and of greater educational value to the students.

This is especially to be desired if the new building is fire proof, for, as it is now situated, the museum which is said by some, who are competent to judge, to be of greater value than the entire physical plant of the college, (or at least could not be replaced for this amount), is subject to the hazard of fire, being located in an almost inaccessible part of the Main building. Should this building ever be destroyed, the Museum would suffer greatly, if indeed, it were not a total loss.

College Student Organizations

Student activities of an organized character have been present in and carried on by the student body of Iowa Wesleyan almost from the inception of the school.

As the grim Reaper reaches out and brings to a close, one by one with ever increasing rapidity, the lives of those who have been with us since the beginning, it is important, at this time, that many things, which may to some seem to be of a purely trivial nature, be set down with whatever accuracies they may be gathered, in order that future generations may know the truth, and that history be kept straight upon these items, which we believe will come to be looked upon with growing interest as the years go by.

When this book is again published, the Alumni of another decade will be at the helm, and many of our older Graduates will have passed into the Great Beyond. With them will die many valuable and irrecoverable facts concerning the early history of the school, and particularly those details concerning which the greater part of this sketch is made up.

The search necessary for the production of this portion of the history of Iowa Wesleyan College has brought to light many important and striking facts. None, however, impresses the writer more than the appalling vagueness of the idea with which the average student or alumnus is possessed with reference to the beginning of those activities and traditions in which he, at the time, may be vitally interested. Many seem to take it for granted that these activities simply exist, and few there be, who even so much as give a thought as to why they exist, or what combination of circumstances created a demand that caused these various organizations to spring forth. Persistency of purpose has kept them alive throughout all of the years of their existence, and thus they played an important part in the development and rounding out of the lives of those who have enjoyed their privileges and advantages.

In the history of these organizations, Wesleyan has that which money cannot buy, and influence cannot obtain. Noble tradition, which lives in the lives of the Alumni from the time of their graduation, until they reach their grave, setting for them a standard and an ideal by which they may guide and true their existence, is an asset which wealth cannot produce, but which must be developed by slow and tedious evolution, throughout the period of many, many years as they come and go.

In this tradition, Wesleyan is peculiarly rich. Of glorious history, Wesleyan has an abundant supply, and few there be who search its sacred page who can not detect the Hand of the Infinite working in and out, sometimes seemingly cruel, sometimes chaotic, but nevertheless weaving a fabric, which is inexpressibly wonderful and which will grow in beauty to the retrospective view of generations of students yet to come.

It is a rare moment in the writer's life when he comes in contact with one of those dear, old Alumni who has treasured many valuable and precious facts in his heart, and who can give one some "real" information concerning the origin of those activities which most of us accept as a matter of fact, never raising the question from whence they come, why, when, and to what purpose they exist.

Student activities have always been divided into four groups, intellectual, spiritual, physical and social. Each in its sphere has played an important part in the lives of many students, for few there are who have studied in Wesleyan's classic halls, but whose lives have been influenced by one or more of these various interests, and many there are who have been active in all of them.

Under the intellectual group, comes the Literary Societies, Forensic League, and Honorary Fraternities. The Musical activities of the student body, as well as the Student Publications, all of which are now or have at some time or other been carried on with well defined organizations, may also be classed under this heading. Under the Spiritual will be found the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., and the Gospel Teams; under the Physical comes foot ball, basket ball, base ball, track work and tennis. The Athletic group is the least susceptible of treatment in a sketch of this kind and while these sports may seem to be interests of the first magnitude while the student is in college, they soon after graduation become insignificant in character as compared with the activities of the broader fields, where the development of the mind, the spirit, and the sociabilities are involved. While each of these diversions may have its devotees and enthusiasts, we cannot take the space at this time to give an exhaustive sketch of the various branches of College Athletic activities. The Social Group is composed of the Greek Letter Fraternities, of which there are now seven in Iowa Wesleyan, three for boys and four for girls.

In order to hold this writing close to the subject, which is very necessary owing to the space allotted in the book and as there are so many side lights, and illuminating narratives which, though not strictly history, would be highly interesting to all, we are compelled to refrain from the use of any of these and to treat the subject by topics, according to the following outline. We believe the subject matter following the outline covers the ground pretty thoroughly, except for the subject of Athletics, further discussion of which, as above stated, will not be attempted.

HAMLINE LITERARY SOCIETY

Organized 1855.

Motto: "Lux et veritas."

During the years immediately preceding the Civil War when disorganization seemed the order of the day, a few young men of sturdy intellect and determination purported to turn their attention to organization in Iowa Wesleyan University.

Literary Societies were unknown in colleges or universities west of the Mississippi, but Senator James Harlan, then president of Wesleyan, suggested and materially aided the boys of the university in organizing the pioneer literary society of Iowa Wesleyan and also of Iowa, the following students being charter members:

Winfield S. Mayne, '56.	A. H. Murphy,
John Ballard, '57.	John Haynes,
E. T. Coiner, '57.	James Haynes.
G. W. Byrkit, '57.	A. S. Bailey.
J. W. McDonald, '58.	J. B. Wilson.
G. W. Gray, '58.	Chas A. Whittaker,
Mason Bayles, '59.	George W. Manly.
George B. Corkhill, '59.	John Muldoon.

Many of them became men of great achievements. The charter was granted February 22, 1855 and through sixty-two years of stress and war, and peace with unlimited prosperity to our nation, Hamline has sent forth men prepared for their places in the world's activities, men who now are our ideals in our present forensic activities.

Today Hamline has a record, the like of which few literary societies can boast, having won several state oratorical contests and furnished many of Wesleyan's successful debaters.

The present membership is made up of some thirty young men ranking high in the various departments of the college and her alumni may be found in many places filling positions of influence reflecting credit upon themselves, their society and their Alma Mater.

RUTHEAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Organized 1856.

Motto: "Sic Iter, ad astra."

Every new movement encounters opposition as well as favor, and many arguments, some amusing, some futile and others difficult to overcome are presented for and against it, and the attempt to found a literary society for girls at I. W. C. was no exception to the general rule, for as yet the new and modern woman had not appeared.

The mothers had primitive ideas of what girls should learn and feared that a literary society would make them masculine in their actions, so Senator Harlan and his efficient helper, Mrs. Professor Kelley, Ph. D., had to labor earnestly with the mothers to secure their consent to such an innovation as their daughters joining a literary society. In 1855 the first girls' society was organized by President Harlan, and Mrs. Kelley, bearing the name "Cornelian", their badge being a Cornelian ring, one of which each member possessed. They were organized in an upper room of the old Pioneer building.

After the main hall was erected and before it was plastered, they occupied the southwest room on the second floor. This was always called "Ruthean Hall" until in more recent years, when they have occupied "Hamline Hall." The first constitution was written by President Harlan.

There were twenty-one charter members as follows:

Lucy Kilpatrick-Byrkit, '59.	Carrie Wood-Murphy.
Sarah Kilpatrick-Woods, '60.	Mary Payne-Hildreth.
Roxie Strawn-Pugh, '60.	Jennie Payne-Heckendorn.
Tillie White-Broadhead, '63.	Carrie White-Bingle.
Fontanella Nernel-Swan.	Mary Kilpatrick-Templin.
Emily Porter-McClure.	Laura Berry-Winslow.
Mary Young-Coiner.	Sarah Whitlock.
Allie Young-Brown.	Edith Candy.
Addie Kauffman-Fowl.	Martha Linn-Knechen.

Kate Kaufman-Marquart.

Of these ladies the following still are living to recall the olden days for us: Mesdames Byrkit, Woods, Pugh, Swan McClure, Coiner, Fowl, Bronson, Templin, Knechen, Ballard.

The young society did not sail on smooth seas, and the dissension became so great that in the first year some severed their relations with the Cornelian; calling themselves "Calliopeans."

In the following year, 1856, the disbanded Calliopeans were reorganized by President Berry and the two organizations were merged into "The Ruthonian" afterwards called the "Ruthean," taking the original constitution of the Cornelian society.

Their programs consisted of essays, orations, reviews of books, "Ruthean Gleaner," the newspaper, and debates, their first debate being on the subject "Whether women should speak in public or not." Mrs. Nellie Swan on the affirmative and Mrs. Lucy Byrkit on the negative side. The original manuscripts are in the hands of their authors and might be interesting reading to the girls of today.

With somewhat varied success the Ruthean Society has continued its way until now—having since 1890 a sister society, Hypatia, with whom to share the loyalty and affection of the girls.

A number of books are in the college library which were given by the society and bear its name.

For many years, every three months open sessions were held, and in commencement week the graduates from the college who were "Rutheans" received a diploma of graduation from the society in a public exhibition. Here we learned something of "Roberts' Parliamentary Rules," to think and speak quickly on different subjects, and to overcome the timidity which was so prevalent in early years among the girl students.

The present enrollment is sixty and the Ruthean girls of today emulate the example of those who have preceded them, in achieving great and noble deeds in foreign lands as well as in our own country, and aiding in the mental and moral uplift of women. "Thus they journey to the Star."

ATHENIAN LITERARY SOCIETY.

Organized, 1874.

The life and history of Athenian Literary Society was brief and can best be narrated in an excerpt from a letter from one who was a member of the ill-starred organization. Although the letter was not written for publication, it describes with accuracy the circumstances surrounding the organization as well as the fate of this society, and reads as follows: "I will tell you what I can of the experiment of having a literary society admitting both ladies and gentlemen in our beloved Wesleyan:

"About the first of the year 1874, the Faculty decided that it would be a good thing for the world and other colleges, as well as our own, to set an example of such a literary society. They (the faculty) selected the members they wished to have organize it, without any of us asking to be admitted, at least, at first. There were six of us Seniors—I think Lizzie Davidson was the first president. Of Juniors I can remember two, about twenty in all. A few from each class and each literary society, but not enough from any to weaken it.

We had a fine earnest high grade society, the experiment was a success—We all did our best to show the faculty that they had not misplaced their faith in us. Such was our belief at the time and mine now after forty-three years have passed. But the other societies were so angry at us and the faculty—that it was considered wise to drop or disband it. And through no fault of ours—at the end of the term, June, 1874, the society held its only graduating exercises. In the fall nothing was done to reopen it."

The "experiment" evidently left a lasting impression on some of its members and even today they think of its close with sadness.

PHILOMATHEAN LITERARY SOCIETYOrganized 1858.*Official emblem: "A Star."

In the year 1853 the Philomathean Literary society was organized, and at once took her place as one of the bright lights of Wesleyan. In 1867 the present hall was secured and furnished. In 1868 Articles of Incorporation were taken out under the laws of Iowa, and the Charter was secured on April 4th of that year. Several revisions have taken place in the constitution, the latest being in 1911.

In the Spring of 1907 Philomathean temporarily joined with Hypatia, for carrying on programs during the remainder of the year. The result was a series of most interesting and helpful meetings. Philo has done her part in sending out well prepared Alumni and these are in all parts of the world, holding positions of trust and influence and doing a noble work for their fellows as preachers, teachers, missionaries, lawyers, college presidents and business men.

Philo has no motto, but over the President's chair hangs "A Star," the official emblem of the society.

"Hitch your wagon to a Star" was the advice of a great man, and the promoters of the organization said, "Our only wish for Philo is that she may instill into the hearts of young men the true ideals of culture and character, and that she may ever point to something high, to a 'Star of Hope.'"

Twenty-one young men at present follow her standard and bear her ideals in their lives.

HYPATIA LITERARY SOCIETY.Organized 1890.

Competition is the life of any organization, and this axiom is equally true whether it pertains to business activities, social or educational institutions or College Literary societies. For many years Ruthean was the only claimant in the field of literary activities among the girls at Iowa Wesleyan, and this monopoly upon a field so broad was not conducive to the best interest of the society nor the girls who took part in it.

For a long time it had been thought that a sister organization, that could be the counterpart of Philo, and share with it, its spacious quarters, would be beneficial.

To this end on February 7th, 1890, twenty-four girls, some of them former members of "Ruthean Literary Society," organized Hypatia, to be a sister society and pursuing similar aims.

The following girls were the charter members:

Lillian Kendig-Rogers, '90.	Elizabeth McCreedy.
Ida Van Hon, '90.	Belle Dinsmore.
Elsie Byrkit-Kirkendall, '90.	Anna Walbank-McGavic.
Maggie Campbell-Hughes, '90.	Helen Andrews-Guy.
Lillian Saunders.	Nortie Rainey-Rosenberger.
Lena Bereman.	Julia Grumblin-Gardner.
Alice Hughes-Payne.	Pauline Weidensel.
Fanette O'Kell-Lines.	Lottie Crane-Woolson.
Edith Corkhill.	Lillie Carton.
Minnie Chamberlain.	Ina Woodworth.

The new society met with some opposition at first, but steadily pursued its way and soon attained a high standard of excellence. It has held its meetings in Philomathean Hall and has had frequent joint programs with that literary society. Fifty enthusiastic and energetic girls are at present carrying on the work begun and are developing into strong women ready to do their part in the upholding of Wesleyan ideals.

GOETHE LITERARY SOCIETY.

Organized 1884.

Re-Organized, 1909.

Motto: "Praemia post proelia."

Goethe Literary Society was organized December 6, 1884, in the German College, with sixteen members. For a number of years it flourished and did good work. However, it had as competitors Schiller Society, using the German language, Cicero and Simpsonian Societies, using the English language, so that there was great rivalry. The latter three disbanded and thus in 1906, Goethe was the only literary society in the German college.

In 1888 the Society was incorporated. During the days of the removal of the German College to Missouri, a new society was organized, which was in a sense a perpetuation of the older organization, as the name, constitution and purpose of the old society were retained as also its equipment and the new Goethe looked forward to a bright future.

However, for reasons considered justifiable, the society soon disbanded.

HARLAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Organized 1869.

Motto: "A Posse Ad Esse."

Harlan Literary Society bears the name of one of Iowa's most illustrious sons, Hon. James Harlan.

The society has stood and stands today for all that will tend to the uplift of its members and the upbuilding of Iowa Wesleyan Academy.

It trains the students and gives them a lasting preparation for further literary and oratorical work.

Its present enrollment is fifteen young men who are carrying forward the ideals of the founders of the society.

CLIONIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Organized Oct. 23, 1907.

Motto: "Discimus ut Serviamus."

Clionian Literary Society was organized by Prof. G. L. Minear, in Harlan Hall.

The Constitution was drawn up and signed by fifty charter members.

Miss Theo Shaw of Kirkville, Iowa, had the honor of being the first president of the new society.

Clonian has an enrollment of forty-six earnest, enthusiastic members and it is doing the same good work for the Academy girls, which its companion society, Harlan, does for the boys.

THE FORENSIC LEAGUE

The forensic record of Iowa Wesleyan College is one of which every alumnus and friend of the school can be justly proud. In the contests of the Iowa Intercollegiate Oratorical Association, the forensic classic of the state Wesleyan has won six firsts, seven seconds, and three thirds, a record exceeding that of any other college in the state. Under the old regulation when orations had to pass a test in thought and composition Wesleyan rarely failed to qualify. Under the new ruling with its two divisional contests, one for the eastern and one for the western part of the state, Iowa Wesleyan has gone to the final state contest every time, winning three firsts, one second and one fourth. The interest shown in Wesleyan's oratorical record and the inspiration it gives to each member of the student body argues well for the future. To every Freshman comes the ambition to write his name along side of Cavanee, Mitchell and Krenmyre, as well as Heller, Newell and Havinghurst, as a winner of a state Contest. In this respect Iowa Wesleyan surpasses most institutions of the middle West. The last few decades has brought about indifference on the part of the student body toward the art of public speaking. This is true not only of our large universities, where athletics and social life dissipate the student's time and effort, but of the small college as well. At Wesleyan, however, the light of forensic enthusiasm still burns brightly.

In debate Wesleyan has maintained the high record set by her orators in the state contest. A triangular debate is held annually. In these forensic encounters Wesleyan has always broken even in decisions and frequently made a clean sweep as she did this year by defeating Penn on the home floor by a unanimous decision and Parsons' College by a vote of two to one. In the last five years Wesleyan has taken part in sixteen debates ten of which she has won. The inter-collegiate debates have in the past been the training school for our orators. In the running fire of debate each one of the college's representatives has disciplined himself so that when put to the supreme test in the state contest he has made a good account of himself.

Nor is interest in debate shown only among the boys. From time to time the coeds of Iowa Wesleyan have matched themselves with the women from other colleges. In these contests, too Wesleyan girls have always acquitted themselves nobly, and have attained for themselves the same enviable record, gained and defended by Wesleyan boys.

Those who love Wesleyan have great faith in her future. This faith leads them to look forward to the time when Wesleyan will win every state contest, when she will have an endowed chair of public speaking with a man who will devote himself, body, mind and soul to the noble work of developing better speakers, that they may repay their communities and their country by becoming better lawyers, better preachers, better lecturers, better teachers, better men and women than they would have been without the training in the art of public speech.

Pi Kappa Delta, (National)

Installed January 23, 1913.

No movement which has ever been inaugurated as a Wesleyan tradition, has given promise of more far reaching and lasting results than the Pi Kappa Delta Honorary Fraternity.

The scheme of its operation and plan of the whole organization possesses much of merit and its helpfulness is the more appreciated with the better understanding of its workings. It is the only Fraternity in which membership is bestowed unquestionably according to merit, for only those are eligible to membership who have represented the School upon an Intercollegiate Debating Team or as the winner of an Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest.

Pi Kappa Delta is of national significance, having already twenty chapters well distributed throughout the United States and it bids fair to be the peer of any organization, founded along similar lines. We predict for it a growth and prosperity which will soon see it firmly established in all the colleges and universities of the country.

In the founding of this fraternity, as in the founding of many other noble traditions, Wesleyan has played an important part. J. H. Krenmyre, '13, then a student in Wesleyan, was the prime mover in the founding of the original chapter and to him the Fraternity owes many of its admirable features as well as much of its beautiful ritualistic service. He is now a Grand Officer of the Fraternity and is doing valuable work for its advancement.

The degrees of the Fraternity are progressive and so arranged as to stimulate the student on to larger efforts and no move of prejudice or fate can bar his recognition once he has put forth the endeavor necessary to accomplish the ends required for such recognition.

The degrees, together with the requirements carried with them are as follows:

1st Membership Degree—On one Intercollegiate Debate.

2nd Degree of Efficiency—Winner of one Intercollegiate Debate.

3rd Degree of Honor—Winner of two out of three Intercollegiate Debates.

4th Degree of Distinction—Winner of three out of four Intercollegiate Debates or State Oratorical Contest.

5th Degree of Special Distinction—Winner of four Intercollegiate debates or first or second place in Interstate Oratorical Contest.

HONORARY LITERARY FRATERNITY

IOTA PHI.

Local.

Iota Phi is the outgrowth of a club organized by Prof. Waterbury, of the English Department, during the School year of 1907-08, known at that time as "The Scribblers." It was the intent that membership be based on proficiency in literary work. Frequent meetings were held during this year as well as the year following. These meeting combined the social element with the Literary. Near the close of the year 1908-09 it was decided to convert "The Scribblers" into an Honorary Fraternity, based on scholarship. The constitution of "The Scribblers," revised by a faculty committee, was retained, giving the faculty exclusive right to elect members. It also provided for two meetings each year, one during the winter for a literary program, and one in the spring for the initiation of new members. Later this arrangement was changed and only the Spring meeting is held, at which time initiations take place, and officers are elected.

During the ten years of its existence it has successfully withstood the vicissitudes of fortune, through which a new organization invariably goes, and has come to be a well grounded Wesleyan tradition which will undoubtedly be handed down through future ages.

STUDENT MUSICAL ACTIVITIES

The Conservatory of Music was established in 1877 by A. Rommel, and ranks as the pioneer school of Music in the State of Iowa.

To relate all that is known concerning the life of this truly wonderful man, together with the history of his work and his influence from a musical standpoint upon the student body, townsfolk and the people of Iowa, would require a goodly volume.

It will fall to the lot of no person to perform a greater service in compiling the history of Wesleyan and one which will be more appreciated as years go by, than to him who shall cause to be put into permanent form a complete biography of Dr. Rommel, with a detailed history of his Conservatory and its activities in Wesleyan. We hope that some one will undertake this important task within the next few years and thus preserve this chapter of the school's history while the necessary information is yet obtainable.

For the present we must content ourselves with the mere mentioning of some of the more important activities carried on under the auspices of the Conservatory. The Boys and Girls Glee Clubs are perhaps as stable as any organization pertaining to the student body. Each year their members are carefully selected under the direction of the Conservatory of Music, and the Clubs are trained and prepared for their annual tours of Southeastern Iowa, which always includes many of the best towns in this portion of the State. The Club proper usually consists of sixteen members, and in addition a reader, a director and an accompanist. The quality of the programs rendered is above the average of most similar organizations and the personnel of the clubs are of such high character that they make a favorable and lasting impression wherever they go. Return engagements on succeeding years are, indeed, not rare occurrences.

As an advertising medium, especially in the campaign for students the Glee Clubs are the very best which the school affords and upon the manner in which the individual members of these organizations acquit themselves during their travels about the conference depends very largely the opinion which the communities visited have of the school and its work and influence over the young lives intrusted to its care.

Thus the Glee Club brings the work of the school, home to the various charges of the Conference and this is quite important, as it is impossible for but few of the members of these charges to visit the College in its home. The Boys Glee Club has just completed its Eighteenth Annual Tour, and the Girls their Eighth.

At various times during the history of Wesleyan, Bands have been organized, never, however, to our knowledge under the direct supervision of the Conservatory. While no doubt there have been many bands previous to this one, the first concerning which we have any definite information was organized under the leadership of Lowell J. Anderson, '08 during the school year of 1906-07. This band under the able direction of Mr. Anderson, became a well trained musical organization, and was continued for a few years under the direction of Lee Hassenpflug, and later T. J. Pettit, when for lack of interest and material it was discontinued.

This year under the splendid leadership of Mr. Claude Heckman, the band has again been re-organized and trained, two excellent concerts having been given during the year in the College Chapel, as well as a series of successful concerts down town in the Public Square, later in the season.

Of orchestras there have been quite a few, some at a very early period of the school's history. These have rarely, if ever, been under the direct supervision of the Conservatory, and for the most part have been made up of and carried on among the members of literary or other social organizations. There have been a few, however, that have incorporated the talent of the entire school and these as a rule were organizations of a superior order producing excellent musical results.

The first oratorio performance in Iowa was given in Mount Pleasant under the direction of Dr. Rommel. Since, the Conservatory has rendered Haendel's "Messiah," Mendelsshon's "Elijah" three times, Haendel's "Judas Massabeus" twice, "Haendel's "Sampson," Hayden's "Creation", Mendelsshon's "St. Paul", Gaul's "Holy City", Bennett's "Women of Samaria," Haendel's "Saul", besides many minor works. These recitals given by college students assisted by townspeople have always been of a very high order.

A May Musical Festival of four days was given in 1902 in commemoration of Dr. Rommels twenty-fifth anniversary in connection with the Conservatory. At that time a chorus of sixty voices with solo singers of great reputation, rendered among other splendid things, "The Quest" by Nevin, and the "Stabet Mater" by Rossini.

It is greatly to be regretted that modern living conditions, seemingly do not permit of the continuance of this line of activity for in these days when society is apparently over organized with clubs of all sorts and for every purpose, and when automobiles have come to be more in favor than pianos, there seems to be no time in the life of ordinary individuals that can be devoted to intensive choral work, helpful and inspiring as it may be. At this period of the world's history it requires more effort to keep an ordinary church choir organized on a working basis, than in former days was necessary to direct a choral organization of from fifty to one hundred voices. May the sweep of time hasten the return of the good old days.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

In the fall of 1880, Dr. W. J. Spaulding, who was President of the University at that time, received a letter from Mr. L. D. Wishard, then Secretary of the student department of the Young Men's Christian Association, asking him to see that a local association be established at Wesleyan. There had been no organization for religious work among students up to this time, and no student devotional meetings were held. Dr. Spaulding handed the letter to Rev. A. R. Miller, '82, then a student and suggested that a meeting for those who might be interested, be called for definite organization.

The organization was purely local until the fall of 1881, when there was a State Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association held in Burlington, which was attended by the following Iowa Wesleyan delegates: J. T. Davenport, A. H. Collins, Jas. M. McDonald, Alex Telfer, John F. Gibson, A. R. Miller, Miss M. E. Gardner, Miss Lois McDonald and Miss Emma McDonald. It will be noticed that the Young Men's Association admitted ladies to membership at that time.

There arises some confusion in the dates for the minutes of the Convention have the following reference: "Iowa Wesleyan University, Mt. Pleasant, organized last spring, was received into the International system. They have social meetings every Thursday and on Sunday have devotional exercises." Probably the Association was organized by a state representative in the spring of 1881, although it may have been begun the preceeding autumn. Others who were influential in its organization were Miss Ella Martlett, Miss Anna Lawson, Miss Almeda Arrowsmith, Julius Smith, W. N. Potter, W. S. Gardner, and C. W. Simmons.

The organization founded by them has continued without interruption since that time. Its members have in their college days been the spiritual life of the school and have always been active in Christian work after leaving the Institution, many of them going into the ministry or foreign mission work. The value of the Association to the student can best be seen in the effect upon the lives of those who have come in contact with it.

The work in every department of the organization is strong and shows the earnestness of those engaged in it. There is always a large enrollment in Bible Study and Mission Study, and the Volunteer Band meets weekly to discuss the work in foreign fields. Every year a large delegation is sent to the Lake Geneva Students' Conference, which meets in June. The Conference draws men from the central section of the United States and part of Canada, and is in every respect an investment worth while.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Young Woman's Christian Association, though a comparatively new movement, has now a wonderful influence in the uplift of womanhood, the world over. It is not confined to America and Europe, but reaches through its secretaries, girls in all parts of the world.

The college branch of this organization has associations in the greater part of the colleges of the land. The Y. W. C. A. stands for the organized Christian activity of the college girls, and unites all sects in the bond of love for a common Savior. In non-sectarian schools, the association is practically the only Christian influence, while in Christian schools, such as Wesleyan, though it does not stand alone, yet it serves as the center for Christian activities.

What might be called the machinery of the Association is well regulated and adapted to the needs of student life. The departments of work are conducted by committees, whose chairmen form the cabinet. Almost all the Association girls are members of these committees and thus receive the strength and experience to be gained only in active work. Yet this well systematized work is not without spiritual life. Such a spirit of consecration and prayerfulness pervades it that it becomes but the natural expression of a desire to help. The influence of the Association, while sometimes silent, is still powerful in elevating the ideas and ideals of the girls.

The local Association keeps in touch with the broader work, and the difficulties of a changing membership is overcome, by the semi-yearly visits of our State Secretary, and by the attendance of delegates at the State Convention and the Summer Conferences.

WESLEYAN NEWS.

Wesleyan has license to boast of her college paper, for it is a live, interesting, up-to-date news publication. Wesleyan students have long since discarded the time honored, monthly magazine sort of a paper and taken on the form of a four and sometimes six-page newspaper.

The Wesleyan News is published weekly by a student staff, which is elected by and from the active members of the various literary societies of the School. From among the members of the staff it is the custom to select the Editor and Business Manager by annual election, all paid subscribers being eligible to vote, and these elections aside from the Croaker elections of the Junior Class, are decidedly the most spirited participated in by the student body. The Staff has then usually been organized along the following lines: Editor in Chief, Associate Editor, Business Manager, Assistant Business Manager, Local, Literary, Society, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Alumni Editorships and Subscription Agent.

The Editor and Business Manager of the News for the past ten years, have been as follows:

JUNIOR CROAKER.

The first Junior Croaker was published by the Class 1906, and, considering the early date of its publication, together with the fact that they had no antecedent after which to pattern their book, it was a truly remarkable publication, not, however to be compared with the more elaborate Croakers of recent years, which are embellished with modern illustrations and upon which have been lavished a vast amount of money as compared with the cost of this simple pioneer edition.

The publication of a second Annual was not undertaken until three years later when the Class of 1909, brought forth, through many trials and tribulations the '09 Croaker. In appearance this book was scarcely an improvement upon the first, while it contained subject matter of a high degree of excellence. Some of its material has been used verbatim in other portions of this sketch, as its style and accuracy could hardly be improved upon, and to their authors not known to us at this time, we are truly grateful.

The next Croaker published two years later by the Class of 1911 as well as those since published, was a marked improvement over the preceeding two, and from that time until now it has been the custom to publish these books bi-annually by the class of each odd year.

As history gatherers these Croakers are splendid mediums and too much praise cannot be given the class and staff that publish these books, for to these faithful ones, the college certainly owes a debt of gratitude. It is greatly to be regretted that every class is not a Croaker class and that this publication is not made annually instead of bi-annually, for we must all very greatly rely upon these intermediate publications to keep history straight until it can be put into more permanent form in the Alumni Record which is published every ten years. We are indeed sorry that we cannot publish the names of the entire Staff of these various annuals, but space forbids and we must content ourselves with publishing the names of the Editors and Business Managers, with their Assistants, whose noble efforts and tireless energy cannot be given too much commendation.

The experience to be gained in serving in the capacity of any of the above offices is among the most valuable of any opportunity for training that comes to a student during his college life, and may as well be said the greatest literary honors to be bestowed, within the power of the student body. The training which it gives always stands the recipient in good stead later in life's larger work and many have stepped out into important positions as editors and authors better fitted for these positions by reason of the practical training obtained while students in Wesleyan.

P. E. O. SISTERHOOD

CHAPTER ORIGINAL A.

Founded in 1869.

Emblem: Five-point Star.

Colors: Gold and White.

Flower—Marguerite.

The early history of the P. E. O. Sisterhood, and that of Iowa Wesleyan college, are closely associated. P. E. O. was founded, on January 21, 1869, at I. W. U. with seven charter members: Alice Bird Babb, '69; Mary Ellen Stafford, '69; Alice Coffin, '69; Ella Stewart, and Frank Roads Elliott, '69; Suella Pearson Penfield, '71; and Hattie Briggs Bosquet, '69. The organization was so well planned, both in purpose and detail, that the constitution, rituals and ceremonies, with slight changes, are used today.

The purpose and desire of these seven women was to promote the ideals which make for superior womanhood and to bind into permanency the ties of college friendship. From a small beginning, the sisterhood has grown into a membership of twelve thousand, with chapters scattered over thirty states. With a unison of purpose beyond self interests, alone, an educational fund has been established, now amounting to $60,000.00, which is available for use by worthy and ambitious girls, in securing for themselves a higher education. An example of similar work of the society along educational lines, is that of the $2500.00 which the local chapter gathered and contributed to the college half million endowment fund, during the campaign of 1916.

The rapid growth of the society soon made it feasible to organize a separate college chapter, first known as "A-J" and later as "S". The change was made during the second semester of the year 1889, and continued until 1901, when the college chapter was withdrawn. The group composing chapter "S" then petitioned the Alpha chapter of the Greek letter society, Alpha Xi Delta, which had been organized in 1893, at Lombard College, Galesburg, Illinois, for a chapter of its society. The request was granted, and the local group became the Beta chapter of a society which was soon to become national in its organization and membership.

GREEK LETTER FRATERNITIES

BETA THETA PI

Founded 1839.

ALPHA EPSILON,

Installed 1868.

Colors—Pink and Blue.

Flower—Rose.

Fraternity History at Iowa Wesleyan dates back to 1868, when on June 5th of that year, Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Beta Theta Pi was installed by James S. Castle, '70, Knox College.

The charter members were Horace A. Kelley, J. A. Schriener, Wm. R. Pearson, Robt. A. Burton, Dillon H. Payne, Chester L. Collins, J. C. Mitchell and Albert G. Smith.

Alpha Epsilon was the oldest chapter of the fraternity with a continuous existence west of the Mississippi until 1915, when it was made inactive.

It has nearly three hundred names on its roster and these men have many of them filled high positions in all walks of life, honoring thus not only themselves and their fraternity, but Iowa Wesleyan college, as well.

IOWA ALPHA.

Installed 1868.

Flower: Wine Carnation.

December 23, 1868, Iowa Alpha of Pi Beta Phi was established in Iowa Wesleyan as Gamma Chapter of I. C. Sorosis, by Libby Brooks Gaddis, of Monmouth, Illinois, then a student of Iowa Wesleyan University. Charter members were Libby Brooks (Gaddis), Jessie Donell (Thomas), Sarah A. Taylor, Prude Kibben (Murphy), Lavinia Spry (Lisle), Sadie Harrison (Knight), all of whom are living excepting Prude Kibben (Murphy) and Lavinia Spry (Leslie.)

At the convention of 1886, the chapters were renamed and Iowa Gamma became Alpha, and at the convention of 1888, it was voted that the Greek features no longer be sub rosa. The Greek letters Pi Beta Phi took the place or exchanged places with the Latin letters, I. C., on the pin.

It was deemed best in 1885 to again require that members must be University or college students or graduates, in order to more nearly conform to Fraternity Ethics—that no chapter should exist unless situated in a University or College. Iowa Alpha is the oldest active Chapter with a membership of seventeen. The roll shows she has initiated over five hundred members. Of this number, fifty-four have died.

Both active and Alumnae Pi Beta Phi were greatly interested in the recently raised endowment fund for I. W. C. The flattering amount of some $700.00 was placed to Pi Phi credit. Considering that the active chapter seldom numbers twenty, and Alumnae averages around thirty members, Pi Phi, as the English say, "does her bit ungrudgingly."

PHI DELTA THETA.

IOWA ALPHA.

Installed 1871.

Colors: Argent and Blue.

Flower: White Carnation.

Iowa Alpha Chapter of Phi Delta Theta was installed at Iowa Wesleyan, on September 27, 1871, the charter members being as follows: F. M. Miller, '71, J. T. McFarland, W. M. McFarland, '73, John Lauder, Herman S. Lauder, W. H. Hopkirk, '72, E. Sampson, '71, S. W. Siberts, '72, Ed A. Gibbs, '73, Frank Kauffman and C. F. Knowlton, '73.

Iowa Alpha is the oldest Chapter of the fraternity west of the Mississippi river, and numbers among its two hundred and fifty active and alumni members many men prominent in all fields of activity.

The Alumni Chapter of Mt. Pleasant founded May 30, 1905, has been very active in its efforts to build up the college and its loyalty greatly aided the securing of the handsome endowment fund.

DELTA TAU DELTA.

In the year 1874, a chapter of Delta Tau Delta fraternity was installed in I. W. U. and continued until 1880. Although some strong men were among its members, for some reason it failed to get a firm hold, and after struggling for a time, the chapter was abandoned, and several of its members were taken into the other two fraternities, Beta Theta Pi, and Phi Delta Theta.

ALPHA XI DELTA.Founded April 17, 1893.*(As P. E. O., Chapter S.)*BETA CHAPTER*Installed 1902,*Colors: Double Blue and Gold.*Flower: La France Rose.

The early history of the Beta chapter of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority is identical with that of the P. E. O. Sisterhood. For many years this Sisterhood maintained a College Chapter in Iowa Wesleyan known as Chapter S. In 1901 for reasons deemed sufficient the Sisterhood decided to withdraw from the field of College activities and this action was consummated during the second semester of that College year.

The group of girls composing Chapter S, petitioned the Greek letter sorority Alpha Xi Delta for affiliation, which petition was granted and the installation took place in 1902.

Beta Chapter at Iowa Wesleyan has always stood for high ideals, both in the class room and in campus activities. Its members have been leaders in intellectual circles and in the musical world. They have ever stood firm in living up to the ideals of Truth, Science and Liberty, which are the watch words of our Alma Mater, and in the recent campaign for endowment they were not found wanting. The Alphas did their share, both in giving and in work for the success of the campaign.

The organization of Sigma Kappa Zeta was perfected October 1, 1911 and formally recognized by the faculty on Nov. 1, of the same year. The following constituted the list of founders: Enos Abel Lauterbach, Albert Frederick Neutzmann, William Goodheart Breitenstein, Clarendon Having-hurst, Claudius Kief Hayes, Daniel Boone Heller, Gilmore Danskin Swaney, Roy William Lofquist, Wayne Ross Hagie, Harlan Ray Stone, Clarence Edwin Hagie, Samuel Laird Hagie, Columbus Ferrel Hayes, Floyd Oscar Hagie and Hugh Stanley Newell. They chose as faculty member Dr. Reemt Eike Luebbers. From the first the organization found a hearty welcome and as a consequence thrived. Under the able leadership of its corps of officers, who during the first year consisted of Roy Lofquist, president; Enos Lauterbach, vice president; William Breitenstein, secretary; Albert Neutzman, treasurer; and Clarendon Havinghurst, historian, the organization laid plans to petition the national fraternity, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

At the Grand Conclave of Sigma Phi Epsilon held in Detroit August 25, 1912 a charter was granted to the local Sigma Kappa Zeta and on February 1, 1913 Iowa Alpha of Sigma Phi Epsilon was installed at Iowa Wesleyan, the names of the charter members being the same as those of the founders of Sigma Kappa Zeta, with the addition of Howe Lee Ernst, who was in the meantime made a member.

The Fraternity has since its organization maintained a Chapter House on North Main street, and the type of boys which they have chosen to become members, can in no way be better illustrated than by the fact that three times during its brief existence, one of their number has won the State Oratorical Contest, thus not only bringing fame to Old Wesleyan but honor to their fraternity.

PHI MU.

Founded 1852.

OMEGA CHAPTER.

Installed 1914.

Colors: Rose and White.

Flower: Carnation.

On September 12, 1914, Miss Nellie S. Hart, National President of Phi Mu, installed Omega Chapter in Iowa Wesleyan College, with the following charter members: Edith Sanderson, '14; May Roberts, '14; Mary E. Torrence, '14;

Inez King, '14; Bertha Saunderson, '15; Ruth Logan, '15; Ruth Schreiner, '15; Marie Schick, '17; Mable Core, '17; Emma Bloomquist, '17; Edna Collins, '17; Agnes Reaney, '17; Frances Toothacre, '17; Fae Hayes, '17; Jessie Carter, '17.

The first president was Miss Ruth Logan. Phi Mu is the youngest of the Greek Letter fraternities in the college, but with a National Charter it has already made an enviable position for itself and at present has twenty-six active members.

It is proposed to organize an Alumnae Association during the coming summer.

KAPPA DELTA PSI.

Local.

1917.

Flower: Violet.

Kappa Delta Psi was organized April 24, 1917, with fourteen charter members. These were as follows: Donald F. Lawson, '17; Harold D. McCullough, '17; Lowell D. Thompson, '17; Paul D. Sandmeyer, '18; Fred E. Hyzer, '18; Lee A. Messenger, '19; Ernest E. Newquist, '19; George E. Jones, '19; Arthur Ollivier, '19; William C. Perdew, '20; Lloyd M. Nye, '20; Earnest Patterson, '20; Paul East, '20; Paul S. Sterner, '20.

The organization of this new addition to fraternity circles is due in great part to the efforts of Lee A. Messenger, '19.

The President is Paul Sandmeyer, and there is hopes that this youngest of the circles may become a strong force in building up Wesleyan ideals.

Apology

Dear Alumni:—

The world war now in progress, in which the United States has been involved, is responsible for the changing of many plans and the cause of many well conceived arrangements being broken up. This is particularly true of the plans for the publication of our new book, for no sooner had the first few pages of this edition come from the press, than our worthy editor, Mr. Herbert Jeffrey, 1913, was called to the officers' training camp at Fort Snelling, to prepare and fit himself to become an officer in Uncle Sam's great new army.

Inasmuch as the contract for the publication of the Record had already been entered into, and the materials required for the same purchased by the publisher, no turning back was permissible and it therefore devolved upon me as Chairman of the Committee on Publication of the Record, and being most familiar with the plans and requirements of the proposed volume, to assume the responsibility of Acting Editor. This I did upon the request of Dr. Schell and Mr. Jeffrey, and I therefore take this opportunity of addressing an open letter to the members of the Association, craving your indulgence for any errors or omissions which may have crept into the book, for which I may in any manner be responsible.

This duty was undertaken by me, with the assurance of the co-operation of a host of friends, who certainly have not failed me in my hour of need. At this time I desire to thank personally and publicly all those who have in the least contributed towards the success of this venture. Particularly Mrs. L. G. Murphy, Mrs. Laura Gassner Craver, Dr. E. E. Lymer, C. S. Rogers, Reemt E. Luebbers, Harry E. Jaques, George E. John, W. H. Evans, who have done special work, and last but not least (if I may mention this with good grace) my good wife who has devoted practically her entire time to the direction of compiling the individual records of the Alumni, taking charge the moment the book was started and not laying the work aside until it was completed.

Much credit is also due those earnest, enthusiasts who were responsible for the publication of the first Record, for without the result of their loyal efforts, this edition of the Alumni Record would have been physically impossible. All honor to Carl Williams and Dr. Hancher, as well as all others who helped to make the previous record a reality. No one, perhaps can appreciate the enormity of their task so much as I, having myself had a taste of what they must have gone through with in preparing the original manuscript.

As Mr. Jeffrey mentioned in his Preface, this work is far from complete and full of many errors and grievous discrepancies, yet we doubt if any work of this kind could be produced technically correct owing to the very nature of the subject matter to be treated. Some sketches which were incomplete in the Old Record, we have happily been able to supply, others have been as elusive as Jason's fabled Golden Fleece, having utterly baffled all of our endeavors to ascertain the facts. One sketch in particular, which we were enabled to complete, gives us great satisfaction. All that was published in the old record was as follows:

"No. 41. Edward Hemenway, A. B., Born Herkimer, N. Y., entered from Academy 1858. M. S. 1865. Served through Civil War as Staff Officer. Died April 6, 1866. Mt. Pleasant, Iowa."

If you will now trouble yourself to turn to New Record No. 41, you will get a glimpse of some of the work we have been enabled to accomplish with the assistance of our friends. This is only one case of a number where we have been able to improve on the old Record, but alas there are still too many whose history we have been unable to obtain. We shall be greatly indebted to the person who can supply for us any information concerning the lives of the three Hooks, Nos. 119, 120, and 121, upon whom we have spent more effort without avail, than any others.

In bringing the History of Wesleyan as presented in this book, down to date, we have attempted to relate everything of importance which has occurred during the interim between publications of the Record. We have also added many new features to the Historical sketch, as well as a few to the Record proper. The write-up of the Ladies' Guild, Organ Association, Museum and Student Activities will be of interest to all, particularly those who have not been in the habit of subscribing to the Croaker Publications of the Junior Class. It is for these especially that we have devoted so much space to these various topics. Two new departures in the Record are the fixing of a flag preceding the names of all those who have served their country in time of war. We are indeed proud to honor them with this special distinction; also, the reference numbering from parent to child, husband to wife, and visa versa. In this connection we have looked in vain for an instance where grandparent, parent and child have all graduated from Wesleyan, no doubt, this circumstance will occur some of these days and with this occurrence a new epoch will be added to Wesleyan's Tradition.

Yet with all of this added material, we have left untouched many rich fields for historic research in connection with Wesleyan's past, and would suggest that some one delve into the archives of Wesleyan lore and prepare for us such information as may be gathered concerning the history of the Class Play, Founder's Day, Thanksgiving Banquets, Mantel Orations and the ancient and honorable custom of Junior Orations which were the bugbear of all of the Juniors up to the class of 1909. Also a compilation of data concerning Wesleyan yells and Wesleyan songs will be needed for publication in the next History.

We are of the opinion that when this work is again published, the material will have so increased as to make it necessary that the work be published in two volumes; Volume I, containing the History and Volume II, the Record. It is also to be hoped that the appreciation of the Record on the part of the Alumni, will be so great as to warrant the Association's publishing the same every five years, and the History and Record, as a two volume every ten years, and perhaps later the publishing of both at five year intervals.

We have great plans mapped out for the Association to accomplish in the future which we hope to see worked out to the satisfaction of all concerned within the next few years.

Now that the campaign for Endowment has been completed by the Trustees and friends of the school, the officers of the Alumnae Association expect to launch a campaign for College Endearment, which we count as important as College Endowment, that will result in bringing the scattered Alumni into closer touch with their Alma Mater and then a little later, after we have caught our breath, the erection of a splendid Alumni Hall on the college campus which will in a measure show the appreciation of the Alumni, for what Old Wesleyan has done for them, will be in order.

BEN HUR WILSON,
Acting Editor of Alumni Record.

Boyer, (See No. 83) of Prescott, Iowa we have obtained the following information: "John W. Boyer was last heard of by his family in 1876. He was thought to have gone to Minneapolis, Minn. In about 1882 some of the flour mills were blown up by an explosion of mill dust. In the fire which ensued many of the employees were killed or injured. In the casualty list which appeared in the paper the day following the name John Boyer appeared among the dead at the Washburn Mills. A letter was immediately sent to the Washburn Company and the reply came back that this John Boyer had been claimed by a relative and the body taken to Indiana for burial; however, as the years passed by and John did not return the suspicion has ever been increasing with his family that this was a ruse on the part of the Washburn people to avoid litigation for damages, or that there might have been an unintentional error on their part and that the body was entirely cremated or buried among the unknown dead."

Black Hills College

(Historical Sketch)

Black Hills College during the ten years of its history offered strong courses in its college of Liberal Arts as well as in Music. It was located at Hot Springs, South Dakota, a beautiful town situated among the Southern foothills of the Black Hills Mountains. A handsome building was erected and had all gone well, it would no doubt have proved to be a power for good throughout the entire Black Hills Country. Both Dr. Hancher and Dr. Lymer, known and beloved to all of us were officially connected with the Institution, and Prof. Eaton of the Faculty is numbered among its Alumni. Though one of the small colleges, it had at one time an attendance of one hundred and fifty students. Twenty-two persons received Bachelors Degrees from this institution. In 1905 by action of the authorities of Iowa Wesleyan College, the Alumni were adopted as Alumni of the Iowa Wesleyan College. These alumni are now widely scattered and not all of their addresses are known. Their ability has been recognized everywhere they have been and they have proven worthy representatives of the institution graduating them and also of the institution adopting them. Their names and classes with residence as far as known appear below:

The first alumna of Black Hills College was Miss Alma Lampert, who graduated in 1891, at the end of the first college year. Miss Lampert taught a number of years at Hot Springs, South Dakota and was married to Mr. George Bennett of Rapid City, where she now resides.

Mt. Pleasant Female Seminary

(Historical Sketch)

Mount Pleasant Female Seminary was established by the Rev. Mr. Bergen, a Presbyterian clergyman, in 1864. It was located on the South Side of East Washington street, just beyond the entrance to the Grounds of the State Hospital. In 1866 Mr. Bergen sold it to Mr. Edward L. Belden, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Mt. Pleasant. Under the administration of this able man, the school was remarkably successful. It grew from year to year and very soon it was found necessary to enlarge the building. In 1871 Mr. Belden died; this was a terrible blow to the school and for a while seemed as though it would bring about its destruction. However, under the splendid leadership of his widow, Mrs. Jane W. Belden, it rallied from the blow and became more successful than before Mr. Belden's death.

In 1874 Mrs. Belden followed her husband to the great beyond and this disaster, coming so soon after the first one, proved more than the school could withstand. After vain and ineffectual struggles its doors were closed in 1879. It was not an endowed institution.

Both the instruction and work done by the students of the Seminary were of a very high order, and many of its graduates are today social and intellectual leaders in the communities in which they reside. Culture and refinement were everywhere in evidence and to quote from a catalogue of the institution, issued in 1877. "A thorough practical English education, with the cultivation of a high and refined taste, is our aim," well illustrates the spirit of its promoters. Had not disaster overtaken the school, it would no doubt today rank with the most noted finishing schools of the Country.

The prescribed course compared very favorably to the Liberal Arts course of the Colleges of its time, and while degrees were not given, the work required gave its graduates the equivalent of a College Education.

Mount Pleasant and Wesleyan owes much to the Seminary, for one thing, if for no other. It brought Dr. Rommel into our midst and this alone should make for it a worthy place in all our memories.

At the annual meeting of the Alumnae Association in 1913, the graduates of the Seminary, a list of whom is below appended, were made Honorary Alumni of Iowa Wesleyan. We print their names with pleasure and deeply regret that space forbids our printing a detailed history of each. Not a few of them are also graduates of the College and their names will be found in the index and by referring to their respective numbers in the Record.

Explanation

The Alumni of Iowa Wesleyan College are made up of three distinct and separate classes. First, all graduates of the College who have pursued the regular Collegiate Course leading to a Bachelor's or Master's Degree, (See Alumna! Association Constitution, Article 5, Section I, Page 65) who upon graduation automatically become members of the Alumna! Association and are entitled to vote at its meetings upon payment of the Annual Dues. Second, those upon whom Honorary Degrees are conferred at the Annual Commencement, upon recommendation of the Faculty and election by the Board of Trustees, who thereby become Honorary Alumni of the College, but do not become members of the Alumna! Association without special action of that body. Third, those who are elected to Honorary Membership in the Alumna! Association by a two thirds vote at the annual business meeting of the Association, according to the constitutional prerogative of that body. (See Alumna! Association Constitution, Article 5, Section II, Page 65) These members are entitled to all the rights and privileges of regular alumni, excepting the right to vote. It is usually the intent to bestow this honor upon the graduates of extinct institutions as in the case of the Black Hills College and the Ladies Seminary, or upon those who have had the equivalent of a college education.

The Graduates of the University, listed on page 412 including the College of Law, Pharmacy and Oratory, are regular graduates of the College and therefore members of the Alumnae Association. In the next publication of the Record their names will be distributed with their several classes and if possible a complete sketch of each will be obtained and printed with those of their classmates. This will necessitate a renumbering and reordering of both the Record and the Index and will afford us opportunity to eliminate a number of B's, the majority of whom were graduated and reinstated with their classes subsequent to the time of graduation of the remainder of their class.

The total number of Alumni of the College up to and including graduates of the June 1917 Commencement, are as follows:
